FINAL FANTASY® V Walkthrough

THE BEGINNING

After the opening scenes end, use the Chocobo to enter the forest, where you will discover that a meteorite has crashed into the earth. You meet up with Reina, who claims that she is looking for her father, who hasn't returned from the Wind Shrine. In addition, you discover that a third civilian has been injured.

The injured civilian, named Galuf, eventually comes to but he remembers little else about himself, other than his name and that he was also heading to the Wind Shrine. After Reina and Galuf head to the Wind Shrine, you should return to your Chocobo.

NOTE

Make sure you pick up the Phoenix Down (1) in the chest near the meteorite.

Earthquake!

Ride your Chocobo to the only available path on the map to the northwest. However, as you enter, an earthquake hits and the ground begins to separate.

After disposing of the goblins in the canyon, carry Reina and Galuf to safety in the hills.

As they regain consciousness, Bartz agrees to join them on their quest to reach the Wind Shrine. The only problem is that the earthquake and the meteor have blocked the only passages to the Shrine. You are then forced to enter a small cave that was created during the commotion. Save your game and head inside.

PIRATE COVE

Upon entering the cave, replenish your health at the underground spring located in the second cave to the right. As you head through the cave, you'll eventually sneak up on what looks like a pirate. The pirate then flicks a switch on one of the cave walls, which opens a secret doorway leading deeper into the caverns.

Follow him into the cave by flipping the switch on the wall, and head through the doorway to emerge in what resembles a secret underground harbor for pirate ships!

Your only hope for finding the Wind Shrine at this point is to sneak onto one of the boats. However, the place is crawling with pirates, so you must be careful! Head up and to the right to cross a long wooden pier.

Captured by Faris!

After boarding one of the ships, check the wheel at the front of the boat. Once you do, you'll get caught! The pirate leader, Faris, and the rest of the gangly crew will descend upon you.

Puzzled by Reina's amulet gleaming in the sunlight, Faris chooses to throw your group into a cell. However, Faris soon releases your party because Faris realizes that the amulet that Reina is wearing is similar to the one Faris is also wearing. Faris then agrees to help you reach the Wind Shrine!

You then meet Hydra, the great water dragon, who has helped Faris since childhood. Hydra pulls the boat through the water, making travel a cinch with or without the wind's assistance.

☐ Play Piano #1

Sail your ship to the northwestern shore along the inner sea to find the small village of Tule. While there, stock up on items, weapons and armor, but don't forget to visit the House of Learning to bone up on some of the basics of the game. You can also pick up some items in the house as well.

You'll learn that a man named Zok lives in the big mansion at the far end of town. Reina knows him through her father, but upon visiting the mansion, you learn that he is not home. It's time to head to the Wind Shrine!

WIND SHRINE

The Wind Shrine is located on the north shore across the inner sea to the east. As you enter, you discover that several of the King's attendants have occupied the rooms on the first floor.

After speaking with them, you learn that the king hasn't returned from his trip. Something's definitely wrong. Take a moment to speak with the two guards at the south end of the room, and they'll give you five Tonics and let you use the Recovery Water Jug to replenish your health.

When you are ready, head up the staircase through the door at the back of the 1st floor to start your long climb to the Wind Crystal Room. On the 2nd floor, you should save your game and pick up the Tent from the chest.

On the 3rd floor, you can fetch the Leather Cap and Broadsword from the two chests. When you reach the 4th floor, you'll meet an obstacle blocking your path: the Boss Wingrapter!

Boss: Wingrapter

LV: 1
HP: 250

To reach Reina's father, you must fight this tough battle. Make sure that each party member is equipped with the most powerful weapon available: the Broadsword. Hack away at Wingrapter, and avoid attacking it when its wings are not extended. Doing so provokes a powerful counterattack called Iron Nail, which causes damage to the entire party.

The Wind Crystal

You are then given the first set of Crystal Shards, which contain the power of ancient warriors and grant you the ability to take on new jobs. You can now change your party members' abilities to the following:

Name	Vigor	Speed	Stamina	Mag.Pwr
Knight	+27	+1	+20	-14

Where's Walz?

After you rest and stock up, speak with the townspeople to learn more about the situation in the town of Walz. You also learn that there have been sightings of a Dragon atop North Mountain near Kerwin.

A woman mentions that her husband in the Pub recently saw the Dragon. Head to the Pub and look for her hubby on the second floor. After talking to him, Reina insists that the Dragon is her father's. Now it's on to North Mountain.

Getting the Ice Rod

From the entrance leading to the town of Kerwin, head to the right through the tunnel, then take a right toward the boxes in the small corridor. Make your way to the left and pass under the Item Shop to grab the Ice Rod from one of the boxes.

Across the Divide

North Mountain is located northeast of Kerwin. Upon entering, pass through the first set of caves, making sure to pick up the Soft and Phoenix Down. You must weave in and out of the caves by passing along the outer mountainside through a few more caves until you reach a Save Point. Heal your party members and save your game, and then head outside to cross the bridge.

NOTE

Avoid touching the purple Dragon Grass when traveling outside the cave. Touching it will poison your party! If you get poisoned, you'll notice that the screen will look unusual as you walk around.

Magissa & Faltzer

Magissa isn't exactly an easy fight, but it's fairly easy compared to the beast this Boss summons named Faltzer. To really speed through this fight, create four Monks out of your party, and use their powerful physical attacks and high critical hit rates to whittle down Magissa's HP before Faltzer is even summoned.

If you want, place a White Mage in your party so he/she can heal party members after getting hit with the Magissa's magic spells. Note that any type of magic works against Magissa and Faltzer.

The Dragon

You're now free to continue up the mountainside. At the top, you'll discover King Tycoon's Dragon lying injured among the Dragon Grass. After Reina heals the Dragon, you can then ride it down to the town of Walz.

Finding Shiva

To enter the Water Tower behind Walz Castle, head down one floor from the entrance by using the staircase to the right of the double doors. On the lower floor, exit the castle by passing through the doorway to the lower right.

This places you outside the castle. Follow the waterway around to the back of the castle, and pass through the center of the waterfall. This takes you to the Water Tower.

Follow the path until you reach a room filled with raised platforms. Climb to the center platform to meet Shiva.

Find the Water Crystal!

From the King's location, proceed to the left and walk straight into the water. Follow the path to the ivy-covered wall, and climb the vines to grab the Silk Robe.

Jump down the opening to proceed back up through the middle hole to save your game. Explore a little to find all the chests, and then continue to climb up the floors to locate the Crystal Room, where Garula awaits!

Garula

This Boss fight can be difficult if you don't know exactly what to do. If you learned the Toad Song from the ElfToad in the Walz Water Tower, cast it on Garula to turn it into a frog. You can also cast Mute to silence Garula from recovering from the spell. When turned into a frog, Garula is easy to defeat.

However, if you don't have the Toad Song spell, simply cast defensive spells on your party using a White Mage. It's also wise to create a few Knights to protect party members from Garula's most powerful attack, Charge.

Get the Crystal Shards!

After fighting Garula, pick up the Crystal Shards so you can gain new jobs for your party. After doing so, you're automatically transported outside the tower.

Reaching Karnak

From the meteor site, head north around the mountain range, and then go southwest through the forest to reach Karnak.

Karnak's Most Wanted

When you reach town, you learn that the Queen has imprisoned Professor Cid and that monsters have attacked the Fire Crystal. Head into one of the shops in town and purchase an item.

The moment you do, you get arrested for being a monster and are promptly thrown into a cell neighboring Cid's. While in the cell, constantly move around it and, eventually, Cid will bust through the wall.

Professor Cid

Cid introduces himself as the inventor who built the crystal amplifier for Karnak. He explains that he was imprisoned for trying to stop the amplifier from destroying the Fire Crystal. Soon after, you get released from prison by the Chancellor, who has come to free Cid.

He informs you that the Fire Crystal is indeed shattering, and he needs Cid's help to stop it. Cid suggests that the Fire Ship is the culprit, and asks you to meet him at the boat.

Karnak in Flames!

Upon leaving the prison and Karnak Castle, you discover that everything is in flames. Note that all the treasure chests around the castle are blocked, but remember their locations for later.

Exit Karnak and head to the shore to reach the Fire Ship.

Upon entering the Fire Ship, follow Cid until you reach the maze within the boat. You must find the Queen, who has run off to the deepest part of the ship.

Try to avoid wasting too much time fighting enemies, and only fight those enemies you encounter when opening some of the chests. After exiting the castle, prepare for another Boss fight.

The Scholars

The Library of Ancients is located in a forest to the far southwest of the Town of Karnak. Inside, examine the urn in the lower left corner of the second floor. It will replenish your HP and MP completely!

The scholars in the library inform you that the lower levels of the building are overrun with monster books. They also tell you that Mid, Cid's grandson, is located somewhere below. It's your job to find him.

The Roof

If you stop by the roof of the Library, you'll discover that some scholars are burning a few possessed books. If you want, try to read each of the three books lined up below the furnace. Two of them contain general clues about the game, while the far right one contains monsters!

Finding Mid

To get through the Library of Ancients, enter through the door on the lower level near the entrance to the building. Inside the maze, you must shift bookcases and find secret passages by either examining holes in the bookshelves, or pushing up against the actual bookshelves.

After weaving your way through the stacks of books, you'll eventually reach the room harboring Ifrit.

You can also defeat Ifrit by summoning Shiva using a Summoner. After the battle, Ifrit will become Summon Magic for a Summoner.

Biblos

Before you reach the small room where Mid is researching books, you must first fight past Biblos.

Since you just captured Ifrit, summon it with a Summoner in your party. Biblos is immune to all magic except Fire spells, so keep this in mind.

To quickly end the fight, have a Blue Mage cast Doom Claw, which you learned from the Iron Claw Boss at Karnak Castle.

Mid

After the fight, Mid will escort you back to the surface of the Library and will listen to your story. At this point, he promptly takes off for Karnak without you. Exit the Library and return to the Town of Karnak.

Reunion

Once you arrive in Karnak again, return to the second floor of the Pub and speak with Cid. Mid will interrupt and they will both take off to repair the Fire Ship. Follow them and they'll let you use the ship to sail to the Town of Crescent to the far southeast of Karnak.

- ☐ Defeat Adamantaim (Boss)

Getting Adamantite

When you return to the Airship Base, Cid and Mid ask you to retrieve some Adamantite in order to make the ship fly higher. This is the only way to reach the floating fortress that emerged from the Gorn ruins.

Take the Airship and fly back to the Tycoon Meteor. Once inside, pick up the Adamantite from the back wall of the small cavern. However, when you try to exit, a Boss confronts you.

Adamantaim

There are a few ways to destroy the Boss, but it all depends on the types of party members you have with you. You can use a Blue Mage's ability to cast L5 Doom, which you may have learned in the Library of Ancients, or you can use

Shurikens if you have a Ninja in your party.

If neither of these are viable options, simply whittle down the Boss' health using lots of Ice magic.

THE FLOATING RUINS

Checklist

- ☐ Defeat the Sub-Bosses to enter
- ☐ Find the Earth Crystal
- ☐ Defeat Archeoavis (Boss)

Reaching the Floating Ruins

When you're ready, head out in the Airship and press the [X] button. Choose the arrow pointing up when prompted, and you'll come face to face with the gunship exterior of the Floating Ruins.

To coax out the Soul Gun Launcher, you must destroy the two guns on either side of the Floating Ruins. At any time between fights, you can rest up or restock by flying the Airship off the screen to the south. When you're ready, confront the guns on either the left or right side of the ship.

Suggested Level: 20
Weakness: Bolt
Item Won: Speed
Drink, Hard Body

Sub-Boss: Rocket Guns

(Flamethrowers, Missile Launchers)

Each fight against the Rocket Guns features a pair of them. It's best to have a Ninja in your party so you can throw Lightningskill in succession. Two hits from the Lightningskill will wipe out the Rocket Guns. You can buy this item from the Weapons Shop in Rikks Village. If you have a Blue Mage in your party, you can learn Ray Burn from the flame-throwing Rocket Guns.

After destroying each of the four pairs of Rocket Guns, the main Soul Gun Launcher will emerge from the center of the floating ruins. You can save your game, rest, or restock by flying off-screen, and then return.

Item Won: Dark Matter, Potion (x2)

LV: 50 HP: 10800

This fight can really test your mettle if you're unprepared. If you have a Blue Mage who has learned L5 Doom, then use it to quickly destroy the Gun Launcher. If not, use Bolt2 and Lightningskill to inflict lots of damage. It's also a good idea to have a Monk, who can cause big damage to this Boss.

Entering the Ruins

After defeating the Soul Gun Launcher, you can enter the interior maze of the Ruins of Ronka. You have to cross lots of invisible bridges in the floor for the first part of the maze. In the second part, you must explore a series of rooms containing staircases and doorways to reach the Save Point and, ultimately, open the door to the central room. Now it's time, however, to prepare to fight the Boss.

Archeoavis

Archeoavis presents the toughest battle in World 1. It's weaknesses constantly change, so it's difficult to use magic to win this battle. To defeat Archeoavis without sustaining too much damage, change all your party members into Monks and rely on their increased physical attack power. Also, you should have one of the Monks equip 1White as his or her second ability so that he/she can cast Cure2 when needed.

After causing enough damage to Archeoavis, it will revive itself in a weaker form. Its attacks will still be strong, however, its HP will be greatly reduced. Keep hitting it with physical attacks, and you'll easily win this battle. For a quick kill, use L5 Death on Archeoavis' second form.

Krile and King Tycoon

After defeating Archeoavis, follow King Tycoon into the Crystal Room. Then Galuf's granddaughter appears and knocks some sense into King Tycoon. In addition, Krile helps Galuf recover his memory. Once the King comes to, he is reunited with his daughters.

The Crystal is abruptly destroyed by X-Death, who dares Galuf to follow him to his home planet before it is also destroyed. At the expense of his life, King Tycoon manages to purge the evil that X-Death has endowed into the Crystal Shards.

After picking up the Crystal Shards, the Floating Ruins will start to self-destruct.

AIRSHIP BASE & TYCOON METEOR

Checklist

- ☐ Find Cid and Mid

Where's Cid?

When you return to the Airship Base, head to the room to the right of the resting area inside the base. There's a letter on the table from Cid informing you that he and Mid have returned to the Tycoon Meteor so they can replace the Adamantite.

Using the Airship, head to the Tycoon Meteor. When you arrive, you discover that Cid and Mid have returned the Adamantite. Also, you learn that it might power up the meteors enough to enable your party to travel to Galuf's world. They immediately head for the next meteor: Karnak.

NOTE

Now's a good time to revisit North Mountain. Make one of the characters a Trainer, and find a fight with a GhilCat. Take control of it, and cast Float on your party. Don't heal your party until after the fight against Titan.

When you finally reach the new world, pitch ■ tent in the forest on the small island. During the night, some monsters crash your campsite and abduct Reina and Faris forcing Bartz to fight the Boss.

The best attack to use against Abductor is Doom Claw (if you have it). If not, make sure you have Cure2 and hit the Boss with your most devastating physical attacks. X-DEATH'S CASTLE

Checklist

- ☐ Escape the Castle

NOTE

You can steal a Spear from the Shell Bear enemies.

Rescue Your Friends!

When the scene shifts to X-Death's Castle, you'll learn about X-Death's plan to wipe out Galuf and his army. He uses your party as hostages to discourage Galuf from attacking the castle.

Galuf ignores the warning and sneaks in anyway. He'll automatically pick up the Crystal Shards from ■ treasure chest in the main hall. Now you must find the dungeon and free your friends.

From the location of the Crystal Shards, there's a Save Point through the upper left-hand doorway. In the save room, head up one more room to the north so you can use the Recovery Pools on either side to restore your HP/MP completely.

The dungeons are a few more floors down. Head there to meet up with Gilgamesh.

Gilgamesh

Choose Monk as Galuf's job ability in this fight, and use IGuard as your third slot ability. The Monk's counterattack ability is especially helpful, because all of Gilgamesh's attacks are physical hits. You should also cast some defensive magic, like Protes, when the fight begins. After causing enough damage to Gilgamesh, he will escape from battle.

You can now free Bartz, Faris and Reina. Do so and exit the castle, but make sure you save your game before you head through the double doors.

BIG BRIDGE

Checklist

- ☐ Escape from the Bridge
- ☐ Fight Gilgamesh (Boss)
- ☐ Reach Krile

A Bridge Too Far

Upon exiting the castle, you discover that you must trek across the Big Bridge to reach Krile and Galuf's backup military. The only problem is that the bridge is completely overrun with X-Death's goons.

When you reach the second lookout room on the bridge, prepare to battle against Gilgamesh once again.

LV: 77
HP: 2222

Suggested Level: 21
Weakness: None
Item Won: None

Gilgamesh

The second fight with Gilgamesh is a little tougher than the first. This time he'll cast protective spells, such as Shell and Protes, to weaken your party's attacks. To counter this, cast Mute at the start of the battle. You can also have a Time Mage cast Slow to keep Gilgamesh from getting more than one turn per round.

Simply keep hitting Gilgamesh, and eventually you'll cause this Boss to run away yet again!

The Barrier

After the fight, battle through the remainder of the Big Bridge. You'll eventually reach Krile, who's waiting on the other side. Unfortunately, the reunion is short-lived as X-Death activates a massive, magical barrier around the entire castle grounds. The effects of the barrier tosses your entire party off into a different corner of the world before you can get through the door that Krile is holding open for you.

MOOGLE FOREST

Checklist

- ☐ Find the Moogle

Kupo

The Moogle Forest is to the far southeast of Lugor Bordertown. You must wind through the mudlands onto a small peninsula jutting north at the tip of the continent. A small patch of forest conceals a lone Moogle.

Speaking to the Moogle startles it, causing it to run off and fall through a hole in the ground. Follow it down the hole and drop into a set of underground caverns.

After dropping into the Underground River caverns, you must ride the waterways to get from platform to platform. Don't forget to pick up the items in the chests along the way and save a Phoenix Down for later!

A Moogle's Reward

After the Boss fight, the Moogle will show you the way to its village. When it's your turn, follow the directions carefully. You'll also notice that there are no enemies in this area as long as you avoid stepping on the desert areas.

NOTE

Stepping on the desert sand while following the Moogle's directions will usually result in a fight with a SandCrawler. This is a tough fight, and you can't escape from the battle either. Avoid it at all costs!

When you reach the forest, search around below and to the left of the trees to find the village. Upon entering, the dancing Moogles will scatter in a fright. None of them will talk to you except for the one you rescued, which is standing beside the locked hut to the far right.

This time the Moogle will lead you inside its hut to reward you with the contents of six chests. Indulge yourself, and then exit the hut.

NOTE

Before speaking to the Moogle on the roof, take a moment to enter the center hut and grab the Moogle costume. Put it on and enter the left hut to speak with the Moogle inside. It will offer to let you take the Elf's Cloak from the chest.

The Great Sword

Are you in need of some new weapons? Head to the front of the courtyard, and enter the small Water Pool in the lower left-hand corner of the yard. You'll get sucked through an underground waterway until you reach the outside moat. Follow the moat to the back of the castle on the far right side. Now examine the dead end to receive the Great Sword. When you check your inventory, you'll discover that the Great Sword is actually the Regal Cutlass.

When you want to return to the castle, simply pull the switch near the location where the whirlpool dumped you (left-hand portion near the back of the castle moat). This takes you back to the courtyard through the underground canal.

Merchant Secrets

Before you leave, explore the merchant building to the right in the castle courtyard. Make sure you fetch the Angel Robe from the chest behind the Armor/Weapons Shop. While you're still in this same room, examine the south wall separating you from the Armor/Weapons Shop. Specifically, if you examine the wall directly above the small handle placed on the wall on the opposite side, you'll trigger a Secret Door. Enter the shop and the merchants will scold you for hopping behind the counter. One of them will give you Lamia's Harp just to make you leave!

Krile's Request

Krile is on the roof of Val Castle, crying next to the Dragon. She informs you that the Dragon is dying, and that it was only pretending to be better when it took her to Moogles Village. Reina offers to get the Dragon some Dragon Grass, and Galuf mentions that there is some at the Valley of Dragons to the far north.

Stock up and prepare to leave the castle. Talk to the guards at the gate to leave.

The Dawn Warriors

After exiting Val Castle, head directly north along the row of mountains to find Kelb Village nestled in the mountain range. Upon entering, you'll notice that all of the buildings are locked and no one is outside walking around.

Enter the only open building in the village to the north. However, while inside, you'll mistakenly get attacked by the village soldiers, who think you're enemies. You then meet Kelga, one of the four Dawn Warriors who sealed away X-Death 30 years ago.

You also discover that Bartz's father, Drogan, was also one of the four original Dawn Warriors. It's because of this fact that Kelga enables you to pass through the north gate to reach the Valley of Dragons.

Getting Kornago's Gourd

As you explore the town, a mage will appear and ask for a "frog." You must catch a Kornago frog on the World Map in battle (using the Trainer's ability) and return it to him. He'll offer to give you the Kornago's Gourd accessory if you give him the frog and 10,000 GP.

NOTE

Speak to the Werewolf at the Inn, and then sit next to him. He'll restore your HP and MP for free, and then give you eight Tonics. You can do this up to three separate times.

VALLEY OF DRAGONS

Checklist

- ☐ Obtain Dragon Grass
- ☐ Fight Dragongrass & Dragonbulbs (Bosses)

Navigating the Valley of Dragons

The Valley of Dragons is at the foot of the large mountain directly north of Kelb Village. When you enter, you'll discover that you must weave in and out of the mountain through caves and the mountainside to get to the top to retrieve the Dragon Grass.

You won't meet any resistance until you get past the rope bridge. Just past the scattered dragon bones, you'll find a sealed door and an unreachable switch. Simply walk to the right of the sealed door, and you will fall through a hidden hole in the ground.

Helping Golem

When you reach the scattered dragon bones, you'll most likely run into Golem. However, at this point, Golem is flying solo and usually attacks a party member shortly before escaping in one turn.

Don't bother tracking Golem at this point; instead wait until you reach the highest part of the mountain. Before encountering the Dragon Grass, wander along the mountainside until you see Golem fighting a DragonZombie and a Skelesaur.

You need to help Golem without attacking it. To do this, use the Bard's Sing ability and cast Requiem to damage the undead enemies, which won't hurt Golem. If you win the fight without hurting Golem, it becomes Summon Magic for your party.

NOTE

After clearing the Rope Bridge, do NOT use a Berserker in your party. You will lose the chance to obtain the Golem Summon Magic.

Dragonbulbs' physical attacks are weak, but they will regenerate after they are destroyed. Simply keep plugging away at the main blade of Dragongrass to whittle down its HP.

If you don't have Golem, cast Esna from a White or Red Mage to cure poisoned party members, and hit the Dragongrass until the fight ends.

NOTE

To avoid fighting all the way down to the exit of the Valley of Dragons, simply have a Time Mage cast Telepo to return to the entrance of the maze.

Return	3000

The Library

As you pass through the castle, you'll eventually find a large library with several shelves arranged in alphabetical order. Speak with the man standing near the long desk, and he'll ask you to help him put back all the books.

Nearby are three books; examine the far right book of the three. You'll discover the title of the book is "Weird Ronka." Place it on the center left shelf on the bottom row of books. Next, pick up "Register of Monsters" and place it on the far right shelf in the middle row. The last book, "Forbidden Book," belongs on the center left shelf of the top row of shelves.

When finished, the man will leave the library through a hidden door. Follow him and take the staircase to the next room. You'll eventually end up in a room with a bunch of chests. Pick up 5000 GP from the only unopened chest, and then continue outside into the small garden and cross to the right beneath the tower walkway above. Enter the far right room and learn the "Float" spell!

ZEZA'S SHIP

Checklist

- ☐ Rest in the chambers
- ☐ Fight Gilgamesh & Enkidoh (Bosses)
- ☐ Access the submarine

The Royal Fleet

Zeza's fleet is located to the east of X-Death's castle continent. Land on the largest ship, which is Zeza's boat. After a greeting, he asks that you rest in the chambers below deck. After doing so, you'll awake in the middle of the night as some monsters attack the ship!

Monsters!

When you head to the deck, you'll see the crew getting attacked. Head straight for the Boss (the red monster) at the south end of the boat. You'll need to fight one monster to get there, and once again it's Gilgamesh!

Gilgamesh & Enkidoh

Enkidoh joins Gilgamesh later in this fight, and heals both itself and Gilgamesh for over 4000 HPs. The best way to defeat this duo is to keep Enkidoh from healing Gilgamesh. Then hit Gilgamesh with Titan summon spells, Monk critical attacks, and the Golem summon spell to tighten up your defenses.

With Gilgamesh out of the way, concentrate on Enkidoh with plenty of tough physical attacks.

NOTE

It's possible to steal a Genji Glove from Gilgamesh during the fight. This is a very rare item, so don't pass it up.

Checklist

- ☐ Receive Whisper Grass
- ☐ Reach the top of the tower
- ☐ Fight Atomos (Boss)

Using the Submarine

After the Boss fight, Zeza will reveal a secret passage below deck that leads to a submarine. The submarine travels through a tunnel that accesses the Barrier Tower of X-Death's Castle.

You can rest in the quarters below the pilot room of the sub, and then when you're ready, exit through the door behind the sub controls. If you need some items, examine the sub controls and return the sub to Zeza's ship. You can then use the Dragon to fly anywhere you want.

Getting the Whisper Grass

When you enter the Barrier Tower, Zeza will hand over a blade of Whisper Grass, which resembles a walkie-talkie. You must head to the top of the tower to take out the antenna, while Zeza will head to the basement to turn off the power. After he leaves, head to the door on the upper-left so you can save your game.

Ascension

As you head up the tower, pick up as many items as possible. Be careful though, because some of the chests contain Red Dragons, which are tough to defeat.

When you reach the top of the tower, save your game and approach the antenna. Zeza will contact you and ask you to destroy it. Upon doing so, you get attacked.

LV: 41

Item Won: Dark Matter

Atomos

This Boss fight is tough, no matter how you look at it. You should use a few Monks and Samurai to make things easier.

Atomos' most devastating attack is its Comet spell, which can wipe out a single party member each time it's cast. When this occurs, avoid reviving your character unless it's absolutely necessary. If you do revive them, Atomos will simply cast Comet again, probably knocking out the character again.

If you leave the character knocked out, he/she will slowly begin to get sucked into Atomos' "Wormhole" and won't return until the end of the fight. When this occurs, start hitting Atomos with physical attacks from your Monks and use $Toss attacks from the Samurais.

Farewell

After the Boss fight, you discover that Zeza is trapped in the tower's basement. With no way to reach him and the building falling down around you, you have no choice but to leave courtesy of the Dragon.

Galuf gives a tearful farewell to his friend, and insists on waiting for him in the cave below. But after a few seconds, he regains his senses and rejoins you in the submarine.

Zeza: Don't worry. I'll always be with you when you need me.

GILL'S SHRINE

Checklist

- ☐ Find the Shrine
- ☐ Speak with Gill
- ☐ Get the Elder Branch

The Sunken Island

Galuf suggests that you find Gill using the submarine. Locate the blinking dot on the map in the middle of the north ocean. Head there in your sub, and descend deep into the cave at the blinking dot's location.

The Chest and Stone Puzzle

When you reach the heart of Gill's Shrine, you'll find several chests in a circle and several doors lining the walls that are blocked for the time being. The center chest is the only one with anything in it, so open it to remove the Stone inside. Now your objective is to place the Stone in the appropriate open chest to unlock one of the blocked doorways.

You first need to place the Stone in the upper-left chest to open the right door above. Enter the doorway and flip the switch in the passageway. This will clear a walkway in another cave nearby. Return to the chest room, and remove the Stone from the chest, and place it in the bottom-left chest to open the next door. Now you can head down the passage to the main area of the Shrine.

NOTE

If you're lucky, you may receive the Lumino-Staff after a fight against Metamorph.

Meeting Gill

When you finally meet up with Gill, he'll ask you to go to Moore Forest. Apparently, X-Death has some interest in something in the forest, so head there immediately.

Gill warns that the forest is magical, and will attack anyone who tries to enter. Therefore, he hands over the Elder's Branch, which will allow you passage into the forest, however, you'll have to deal with the monsters inside. Return to the submarine, and begin your journey north to Moore Village.

Received "Elder's Branch"

CHOCOBO ISLAND (OPTIONAL)

Checklist

- ☐ Find the island
- ☐ Find and fight Shoat

The Secret Island

On your way to Moore Village, access the World Map while underwater and you'll see a white dot to the far north. Note that you won't see it unless you're submerged in the sub. There's an opening underwater leading into an underground tunnel.

Finding Shoat

Go through the tunnel until you emerge on a small, heavily wooded area with a small lake. You may want to stop in at the isolated forest to the southeast to find a female Chocobo, but your main objective here is to find Shoat.

Wander around the wooded area, and you'll eventually find an enemy by the name of Shoat. Prepare yourself for one tough battle!

Before the fight, equip the ability EquipRibbon or make one of your characters into a Dancer. By doing so, you can equip a Ribbon for protection against Shoat's powerful Devil's Eye spell. The moment it connects, it turns a character into stone unless you have the Ribbon equipped.

During this fight, you'll use plenty of Softs and lots of MP casting Cure2 and Esna. Have the Dancer or the character wearing the Ribbon as the main character cast Soft, while using the other characters to plug away at Shoat until it's destroyed.

MOORE VILLAGE

Checklist

- ☐ Rest and stock up
- ☐ Speak with villagers about Moore Forest
- ☐ Play Piano #7

Talk of the Town

The only way to reach Moore Village is by using the submarine to navigate the narrow, underwater passages. Check the World Map, and locate the blinking dot on the northern tip of the western continent. If you're coming from Chocobo Island, then Moore Village is located on the peninsula directly to the south.

When you surface in the small lake outside the village, make sure you save your game. In the village, you'll discover that most people know about Moore Forest and will offer lots of information about how to get around in it.

Checklist

- ☐ Find the Wood Sprites
- ☐ Find the Moogles
- ☐ Reach the Elder's Tree and fight the Seal Guardians (Boss)

NOTE

If you don't pick up the Aegis Shield until after the Moogle takes you underground, it turns into a Flame Shield.

Surviving the Forest

Moore Forest has some tricky paths, so look for tree trunks with small black holes in their base. This indicates that a Wood Sprite lives inside. After examining a hole, a tunnel will be created for you to pass through to the next area.

From the entrance, find the Wood Sprite to the upper-right. The next Wood Sprite is a little to the left of center north. In the next area, there's ■ Save Point but no Wood Sprite.

Heal and save your game, and then head up and to the left from the Save Point.

Fire!

At some point in the forest, you discover that X-Death has set the forest ablaze! With the flames rising around your party, pick up the Aegis Shield, and then wait a while in the same area.

The Moogle

Before long, a Moogle appears. It panics because of the encroaching flames, so it creates a hole in the ground and plunges through. You have no choice but to follow.

While in the underground cave, use the Recovery Spring to replenish your party members' HP and MP. After speaking with the Moogle, it will let you pass through to the surface.

From the Moogle's underground spring, head to the left and pick up the remaining items from the chests. In the left-hand area, head to the north to enter the Elder's Tree. Now it's time to confront Boss lurking inside.

Seal Guardians

This is by far the toughest battle yet. You should ensure that most—if not all—of your party have the ability to cast Cure3. Start the fight by casting Float on your party to avoid the Earth Shaker attacks.

There are four different Boss creatures, each with its own element: Bolt, Fire, Ice, and Earth. They also have some powerful magic spells that can wipe out your entire party in one hit. If you can, have each character summon Titan during your first turn. If you're lucky, you'll wipe out three of the Bosses. If this doesn't work, then you're history! When one of the Bosses nears its death, it will cast all of its attacks at once. However, if you eliminate three of them during your first turn, then you'll be left with the Earth Boss, which is good because your party is floating.

However, if you can't summon Titan four times on your first turn, then try knocking out one Boss at a time instead. It's wise to have a high level White Mage, Black Mage, Summoner, and Ninja or Samurai. The SToss is probably the best ability, if you have the GP to spare.

Galuf to the Rescue

After the fight, X-Death appears and attacks your party with the power of the Crystals. Back at Val Castle, Krile senses her grandfather's danger and rushes off to help. During the struggle, Krile gets captured, forcing Galuf to save her. He fights X-Death alone, and the outcome of the battle is the same. Even if you reach zero HP, you'll continue to fight until you've inflicted enough damage to X-Death to end the fight.

After the battle, Krile agrees to join your party in Galuf's place. It's time to follow X-Death to the castle!

Nest of Monsters and Money!

Gilgame's Cave is to the west of the Big Bridge, through a cave opening along the mountain ridge. This is a particularly tough place to scout for some extra GP, but it's worth it.

Simply check behind every door inside the cave, and you'll find increasingly large stashes of money. The enemies are incredibly difficult, but not impossible. You'll even notice that you'll run into Gilgame rather frequently.

Gilgame has a lot of HP, but if you use a lot of Ice magic (Shiva, Ice2-3, etc.) you'll do fine. You can also change each party member into a Bard and use the Hide ability while Gilgame uses Turtle twice.

X-DEATH'S CASTLE REVISITED

Checklist

- ☐ Navigate the Castle maze
- ☐ Find and fight Carbuncle
- ☐ Fight Gilgamesh
- ☐ Fight X-Death

NOTE

With a Thief in your party, try to pick up the Judge-Staff from the BlackWarlock.

Surviving X-Death's Maze

NOTE

Place a Geomancer in your party to determine where the location of traps are in the floor. In addition, this will cancel out the effect of damage floors.

You must climb to the 13th floor to meet up with X-Death. However, along the way, you must clear the first few floors to reveal the true vision of X-Death's maze.

You can heal and save on the 1st floor of the castle, but on the 3rd floor make sure you enter the center room. If you backtrack a few steps, you can disable X-Death's spell of illusion and reveal the maze for what it really is.

On the 4th floor, press the switch in the room to the left through the upper-right. Exit to the next floor through the door to the left.

On the 5th floor, head through the odd-looking door to the right to reach the 6th floor. Now head up the center staircase to continue, but make sure you hit the hidden paths to retrieve the items in the chests.

The 7th floor harbors a skull switch and ■ moving platform. You can activate the platform by stepping on the switch, but you must press the  button to stop the platform at the right position. Get it to stop in the center; your reward is a Save Point in the next area.

Head straight through the 8th floor, picking up items along the way. When you reach the 9th floor, follow the path to the south to reach the next screen. Proceed up the stairs to the next level.

On the 10th floor, you'll meet Carbuncle. Walk slowly and have a Geomancer scan the floor to reveal any traps. You must walk along the skull blocks to the far end to find Carbuncle.

LV: 44

Secret Boss: Carbuncle

Suggested Level: 30
Weakness: None
Item Won: Carbuncle
Summon Magic

To defeat Carbuncle, summon Shoat enough times so that you can eventually defeat it in one attack. This will take some time, but it's the most painless way to win. Otherwise, have a mage cast Reflect on each party member to deflect Carbuncle's spells. You can even equip Wall Rings to register the same effect.

NOTE

You can steal a Wall Ring from Carbuncle if you have the Steal ability.

Finding Gilgamesh

After the fight with Carbuncle, warp back to the 9th floor and then return to the 10th floor. Instead of heading to the uppermost block, go to the bottom one. This creates a path to a staircase on the left side. The next room contains a Save Point, so when you're ready, it's time to confront Gilgamesh!

NOTE

To reach the chest in the upper right-hand corner of the 10th floor, return to the 9th floor and go to the upper right-hand section of the room. You can climb the stairs to reach the chest.

LV: 77
HP: 7777

Sub-Boss: Gilgamesh

Suggested Level: 30
Weakness: None
Item Won: Excalibur

Gilgamesh is a cakewalk compared to Carbuncle or X-Death. Have one party member skilled in White Magic so you can cast

Cure3, Esna, and Protes on your entire party. Have a Ninja throw some Shurikens, and the SToss ability for a Samurai can't hurt either (if you have plenty of GP).

Continue to punish Gilgamesh with lots of powerful attacks, and it will run off again.

NOTE

Try to steal the Genji Helmet from Gilgamesh.

LV: 66

Suggested Level: 32
Weakness: Holy
Item Won: None

X-Death

At the start of this fight, you should cast Haste2, Shell, and Protes. You should also summon Golem to protect your party from physical attacks. To attack X-Death, make sure that you have plenty of MP for spells like Bolt3 as well as Carbuncle. The Blue Mage's White Wind spell is the most effective HP restoring method.

Attack X-Death by throwing Shurikens, as well as the Samurai's SToss ability. Both are really potent against X-Death. Also, make sure you have a character who can Raise unconscious party members at any time. Good luck!

NOTE

A Bard with Requiem will make life much easier through the Pyramid.

NOTE

To get to the 5th floor, you must fall down from the 6th floor or use the secret passage.

NOTE

To reach the 6th floor, use the top center stairs on the 5th floor.

Entering the Pyramid

As you approach the Desert, you discover that the Sand Tides are no longer functioning. Cross the sands to the Pyramid and approach the entrance.

Use the Sealed Book to enter. Upon doing so, the two Gargoyles guarding the gate will come to life and attack you!

Gargoyles

Suggested Level: 32
Weakness: None
Item Won: None

It's best to attack the Gargoyles with a balanced attack of strong physical hits and magic. If you kill one Gargoyle, the remaining one will revive it if you don't act quickly. The best way to take them out is to have a Summoner cast Titan, or have a Black Mage cause some damage with Bolt3. After the fight, you can enter the Pyramid.

Tricks and Traps of the Pyramid

All eight floors of the Pyramid are filled with tough enemies and tricky traps. It's wise to have someone equipped with the Thief's Secret ability to spot hidden passages in the walls. It's also wise to have either a Bard or someone with the Sing ability to use Requiem on most of the enemies. Some monsters, like Nile or Zefa Zone, are immune to Requiem, but the rest of the enemies will take 1500 points of damage if used correctly.

Always avoid stepping on the spikes, because they will poison your party. You can usually shift the spikes by pressing a blue switch on the wall.

The MechaHeads

On the 4th floor, you'll enter a sand-filled room with a few Auspices and several MechaHeads. You have no choice but to fight your way through each and every one of the enemies in this room.

The MechaHeads are incredibly tough, but they're no match against Bolt3 or Water/LightningSkill.

Make sure you check out all of the coffins. They contain passages and items, however, you must first fight the Mummy trapped inside. You can quickly dispose of the Mummies by using the Requiem song.

Disappearing Floor

On the 8th floor, there's a room with some tricky flooring. Make sure you watch which sections of the floor do not move, and then carefully WALK—don't dash—onto them. Then, when the time is right, you can proceed to the chests or the two staircases on either side of the room.

Getting the Lithograph

You'll find the Lithograph on the center pedestal on the top floor. With the Lithograph, your party can retrieve three of the 12 Legendary Weapons from Kuza Castle.

Then hit the Boss with whichever spell doesn't heal it. Also, Aero works well against Mellusion.

When Reina rejoins your party, use a Phoenix Down to revive her and replenish your party's HP and MP using a Tent or Cottage. Now it's time to reclaim the Airship from the eastern shore.

Claiming Your Weapons

When you reach Kuza Castle's basement, you can choose from 12 different, but very powerful, weapons. Below is a list of the Legendary Weapons and their details. Note that you can only choose three at this point, so pick carefully.

- ☐ Get Hydra Summon Magic

Hydra

Take your Airship to Pirate's Cove, and return to the secret docks deep inside. With Faris and Reina in your party, you'll be able to see a short event involving Faris and her dearly departed Hydra. Afterwards, you'll be awarded the Hydra Summon Magic. This is powerful stuff, so make sure you pick it up.

Getting Past the Gates

If you check the basement of Val Castle, you'll find that the doors are still locked. How do you get inside? Now that Jachol and the Jachol Caves have moved nearby, you can enter the basement through the caves.

Enter the cave opening to the west and press the bottom left switch to open a passage revealing many switches. Wait a few seconds for the fake switches to disappear, and then press the remaining switch. This will open another passage to the ornate door inside. To unlock the door, check the chest to the upper-left.

Continue to follow the path until you reach ■ dead end. Now just climb the vines to reach the basement of Val Castle! Make your way to the top of the room and examine the glowing green orb to summon Odin!

Summon Magic

Secret Boss: Odin

The toughest part of this battle is that you must defeat Odin in less than one minute. You must hit Odin with everything you have, while keeping every party member alive.

It's wise to bring a Black Mage for the Break spell, and a Summoner for Hydra. You'll definitely want to reserve plenty of MP for Raise and Cure3, because Odin casts spells that affect the entire party.

If you manage to defeat Odin within the allotted time, you receive it as a Summon Magic! If you fail, then the game will reset, forcing you to start over from your last Save Point.

NOTE

If you're lucky, you can steal a Protect Ring from Odin.

Proving Your Bravery

If you want, visit the small shed at the bottom-left of town. You can now pass through it and go into the forest below. Keep pushing through the trees (the path is obscured) until you reach a wizard guarding two boxes. The box on the left contains a Brave Blade, while the box on the right contains a Chicken Knife.

Translated, the mage's riddle means that the Brave Blade will weaken in power the more you run from battle, while the Chicken Knife increases in strength the more you escape combat. This number includes the amount of times you've run throughout the entire game, even leading up to this event!

World Three (X-Death's World)

The Mirage

Head to the southwest along the narrow strip of land until you reach a small forest. Inside the forest, you'll find Mirage Village!

While there's nothing particularly special about the town, you will find the most powerful weaponry (excluding the Legendary Weapons), armor, items, and magic for sale at a fairly hefty price.

It's a good idea to equip the Secret ability from the Thief job to uncover all the hidden passages in every building. There are a lot of them, and if you want to find all the different merchants, this is important.

The Black Chocobo

Although the Black Chocobo isn't necessary for the remainder of your quest, you will need it to access North Mountain and Phoenix Tower in the desert far to the north. The Black Chocobo is the only available transport that can land in the forest near the desert.

The Magic Lamp

In the Tavern, you'll run into a man who offers you a gift if you actually ride a Chocobo all the way around the world. Take his challenge, and return to Boko (if you don't remember, check your map; it will appear as a small, yellow bird symbol). Ride Boko all the way to the northwest along the rivers leading to Easterly Falls.

When you approach the falls, you can pick up the Magic Lamp from the edge of the water!

The Piano Master!

The final Piano is hidden in the building at the south of the village. Using ■ Thief's Secret ability, check the walls to find a path leading straight to a small room containing the last Piano! Play it and return to Crescent, and then speak with the Minstrel. He'll teach you the LVL Song as ■ reward for your skills!

ISLAND SHRINE

Checklist

- ☐ Defeat the Gargoyles
- ☐ Get the Lithograph
- ☐ Fight Stoker (Boss)

More Gargoyles

You'll find the Island Shrine at the center of two long bridges to the northeast of Val Castle. When you approach the gates, you'll have to fight another pair of Gargoyles before you can enter.

After the fight, you must climb the shrine to the top to get the second Lithograph.

Riding the Pipes

The only real puzzle inside the Island Shrine is the first one you stumble across. You must enter the heart of the shrine through an air duct that will deposit you in a room with two switches. Now, to travel around and find the door to the rest of the shrine, you must play with the switches. Any of the remaining end locations of the air ducts will dump you in a room with treasure, so it's not too tough.

To find the next doorway, make sure the right switch is up and the left switch is down. Then you're free to continue.

The Second Lithograph

When you reach the top floor of the Island Shrine, you'll find the Lithograph on a pedestal at the north end of the room. However, the moment you pick it up, another Boss will show up to challenge you.

LV: 7

HP: 20,000

Suggested Level: 34

Weakness: None

Item Won: None

Stoker

When the fight begins, Stoker will morph into four different images. Only one of the images is real, meaning it takes damage. Its level is relatively low, but you must determine if you're hitting the correct image before you can inflict any damage. In addition, each time you damage Stoker's real image, it will shift and change positions, meaning you must start over again.

Refrain from casting any spell that affects the entire group of four images. Doing so will cause the Boss to counterattack with Blaze—four times!. Stick to physical attacks from a distance, and remember to summon Golem to keep your party from sustaining too much damage.

NOTE

You can steal Dark Matter from Stoker!

Fork Tower Revealed!

After the fight, the tower to the west of Crescent opens up for business. This is just one part of the double-sided Fork Tower. You learn that you must defeat and destroy each of the two Fork Towers (magic and strength) to keep X-Death at bay. Exit the Island Shrine and rest your party.

FORK TOWER

Checklist

- ☐ Divide your party up into two groups
- ☐ Climb the tower
- ☐ Defeat the Minitaurus (Boss)
- ☐ Defeat Omniscient (Boss)

Splitting Up

The Magic Tower is to the west of Crescent. Stock up on everything, including Potions, Ethers, and Shurikens, from either Mirage Village or Crescent.

When you enter the tower, your party splits into two groups of two characters. Choose the best characters to use Magic, while the other two should have strong physical attacks. Don't forget to equip them and choose their classes accordingly.

It's recommended that Summoners with Black Mage abilities or White Mage abilities head to the Magic Tower (left), while strong fighters, like Monks, Ninjas or Samurai, head to Strength Tower (right).

Both towers are identical in structure, but they harbor different items and enemies. You must first lead the Magic group up to the Boss' chambers, followed by the Strength group.

When the Strength group reaches the Boss room, you'll begin the long fight!

LV: 37

"Holy!"

Minitaurus

There are multiple ways to handle this fight. First, your magic abilities will be null, therefore you must rely upon Potions and other healing items to replenish HP. Minitaurus only attacks with strong physical hits (600+ HP of damage).

Create two Monks with the Level2 Knight ability, Guard, so you can choose to Guard each turn and rely on the Monk ability to counterattack when Minitaurus makes its move. This strategy is slow and sometimes unreliable, but it usually works with little effort.

You can also have a Ninja and Samurai both equipped with Legendary Weapons. Have the Ninja also equip the Double Lance (which attacks twice), and use the ability Sshot! (Level 4 Hunter).

NOTE

Avoid equipping a weapon fortified with Holy, like Excalibur or the Holy Lance. This will heal Minitaurus instead of damage it!

LV: 53
HP: 16,999

Suggested Level: 35
Weakness: Wind
Item Won: Black Magic
"Flare!"

Omniscient

Now it's the Magic group's turn to fight! This fight won't be easier; in most ways, it's even more difficult.

First, summon Carbuncle repeatedly throughout the battle to maintain your Reflect shield. This will prevent any elemental spells cast by the Boss (including its death spell, Flare) from having an effect on your party, and in turn will damage Omniscient.

Rely on Bolt3 (Black Mage) and Hydra (Summoner). If you must heal your party, use Items and not Magic because you will reflect the Cure spell to the Boss. If the Boss casts Reflect on itself, and then use Dispel to counter it.

The Submersible Airship!

After the fight, you will once again gain access to the Airship Base. Rest and save, and then take the Airship down below.

After Cid modifies the Airship, explore the underwater regions of the strange new world. Prepare to dive deep to find the third dungeon containing the third Lithograph.

Into the Deep

Sail or fly over to the south-eastern corner of the map, and dive deep into the water. Check the World Map and you should see a white dot just off the coast of the nearest continent.

When you find the location, head down into a large crevice.

Things to Know about the Great Sea Trench

You should equip one of your characters with the Geomancer ability AntiTrap. There's plenty of molten lava that you must walk through to reach the core room.

You may also want to equip the Sing ability or create some Bards in your party. All of the enemies in the Great Sea Trench are undead; therefore, singing Requiem will cause heavy damage to these creatures.

Also, there are lots of switches along the walls. When there's more than one in an area, they usually only lead to more treasure chests. There are also two Save Points along the way.

Dwarf Village

When you reach the 7th floor, stock up on weapons and armor (if you need to) and save your game. You'll notice one of the dwarves is digging a tunnel that ends up directly beneath Mirage Village, as well.

Finding the Lithograph

When you're ready, head through the south exit and through the next water-filled room to reach the entrance to the Boss area. You must press all the switches in the room (the three lower ones) to stop the lava flow in the center wall of the cave. Examine the chest to open the doorway to the room holding the Lithograph.

Unfortunately, three of X-Death's goons crash the party. Prepare to fight!

Each Boss has its own weaknesses and strengths. Nergade absorbs Ice magic, Triton absorbs Fire, and Phobos loves Poison attacks. So, with all these differences, how do you defeat them? It's easy—use Hydra summon, Requiem, and Bolt3.

You should also equip your shield-wearing fighters with elemental Shields, such as Ice, so that they absorb the elemental spells cast by the Bosses. The most damaging spell cast during the fight is Bio, which will damage and poison your party.

Simply keep casting Cure3, and have your other characters continue casting magic and singing. Also, note that if a Boss goes under while the other two are still fighting, it will revive!

After the fight, you'll receive Meteo magic for a Time Mage. Grab the Lithograph and high-tail it out of the Great Sea Trench.

Sealed Castle of Kuza

Return to the Castle of Kuza to pick up three more of the Legendary Weapons. Only three more remain! However, before you head off to find the remaining Lithograph, take a few minutes to find out what else is open to you.

SUNKEN TOWER OF WALZ (OPTIONAL)

Checklist

- ☐ Find Gogo under the time limit
- ☐ Escape Walz Tower

Underwater

Using your boat, cruise the inner sea south of the Phoenix Tower Desert. While underwater, you'll discover the Sunken Tower of Walz lying right next to the coast. Swim over it and enter.

The entire building is completely submerged, and you'll only have seven minutes to complete your task, or run the risk of drowning. Therefore, make sure you have a Thief in your party with the Caution ability equipped. With this ability, you can dash, escape from battle quickly, and prevent rear attacks.

The Missing Crystal Shard

Remember that solitary Crystal Shard in the Tower of Walz? Make your way to the lowest level of the Tower, and you'll find it lying on the walkway.

The moment you examine it, however, a voice will challenge you to a fight.

NOTE

On the surface of the water near the Sunken Tower of Walz, fight the Stingray and use a Trainer to control it. You'll want a Blue Mage to learn its Guardian spell. Also, you can steal a Rune Edge from it. Lastly, it will sometimes drop the Dragon Beard, which is an extremely rare item.

A Word to the Wise

There are 30 floors in Phoenix Tower, full of incredibly tough enemies. Most of the enemies will also cast abnormal status spells, so prepare accordingly. Also, there is NO Save Point inside the Tower, but you can use the Telepo spell to return to the Tower's base.

NOTE

You can steal a Prism Dress from Serpentina, and Red Shoes from Sherry.

When you reach certain floors in the Phoenix Tower, you can examine two Magic Pots on either side of the room. One Pot will contain an item or GP, while the other will contain monsters. However, there's something special about this monster. You can't cause any damage to it, but it will keep asking for Elixir.

Go ahead and use an Elixir on it. You may have to use more than one to make it finally escape from the fight. When it does, you'll receive 100 ABP.

EASTERLY FALLS

Checklist

- ☐ Find the Lithograph
- ☐ Defeat Leviathan (Boss)

Finding Easterly Village Falls

You must use the submarine to explore the upper-left section of the World Map. If you check your map while underwater, you'll spot the opening of a cave along the coastline of the northwestern continent.

Enter the cave and continue until you surface once again. Now head straight into the waterfalls to enter the caves of Easterly Village Falls.

Those Wacky Gargoyles

Use your strength and magic skills to take out the gargoyles. Only then can you enter the falls.

Using Dash

When you reach B2F, you must equip a character with the Dash ability to clear the waterfall and grab the Protect Ring from the chest inside. But first you must press the switch, and then run!

Dinglberry!

If you meet this creature on your journey, prepare for a tough battle. You should try to destroy it before it reaches your party. If not, the unlucky target of its attack may receive the Cooking Sword attack.

If you choose to fight it, use spells like Break, Odin, or Shoat to try to take out Dinglberry quickly.

Falling Down

When you reach a certain level of the caves, you'll discover that the floor is riddled with traps that will drop you to the lowest level. Use the switches along the wall to reveal some of the spikes in the ground, as well as some of the holes.

After collecting the treasures, your objective is to fall down a specific hole so you can find the lowest room, which contains the Lithograph. This hole is on B4 Floor in the lower, left-hand corner of the room. Press the switch near the chest to reveal holes. Drop down either hole to fall into the Lithograph room!

Leviathan

The best way to defeat Leviathan is costly, but worth it. Invest in four Coral Rings from Mirage Village. This will enable you to absorb the Boss' Tidal Wave attack. Also, bring along some Black Mage abilities so you can cast Bolt3. For a final touch, summon Odin to finish off the Boss. To protect your party from the Boss' physical hits, summon Golem; however, this is not entirely necessary because you'll heal each time it casts Tidal Wave.

After the fight, you can use Leviathan as a Summon Magic spell and you'll also have access to the final three Legendary Weapons at Kuza Castle!

NOTE

You can steal an Eldir from Leviathan.

N-ZONE

KUZA CASTLE

After leaving Easterly Village Falls, it's time to claim the last three of the Legendary Weapons. Pick them up, and then prepare for your long journey into the Void.

Checking Your Progress

Before you head into the N-Zone, make a pit stop beneath the waters to visit a man claiming to be your "psychic friend."

His cave is located deep below the ocean surface, just off the coast of the Town of Karnak. When you enter, speak with the man and he'll tell you the number of times you've fought, how many monsters you've destroyed, your percentage of collected treasures, your average EXP, and the number of times you've run from fights.

The Guardian Spell

As you sail your ship around the coast near the Sunken Tower of Walz, you'll meet several interesting monsters. However, the most prized monster is the Stingray, which resembles a blue bat. Make sure you have a Trainer and a Blue Mage in your group (or characters equipped with Learning and !Cntrl).

When you encounter the Stingray, control it and have it cast Guardian on your party repeatedly. This spell will cast Float, Shell, Protes, and a bunch of other defensive spells on your entire party, significantly reducing damage during a long fight. Only then should you destroy the Stingray. It's important to learn Guardian before you warp to the N-Zone, because success in many of the Boss fights depend on it during battle.

Easter Island?

If you want, you can check out the sunken Moai off the northern coast from the desert area where Northern Mountain is located. Head north from the Sunken Tower of Walz, and continue until you reach the north ocean, and then take the plunge. Continue north and you'll come across a familiar face on the ocean floor.

Preparing for the End

Make sure you have a complete stock of Elixirs, Ethers, Potions, and Cottages before you enter the N-Zone. There are only a few Save Points from this point forward, and there are NO SHOPS! The enemies are also extremely tough, so build levels and master jobs BEFORE going in.

The best place to do this is in the desert, the Phoenix Tower, or on the open sea. Some enemies in these locations will reward you with lots of GP, and more than a few ABP to help boost your stats!

FOREST OF N-ZONE

Journey through the Woods

As you exit Mirage Village, you'll end up in the forest. There are no tricks to getting through the woods, so fight a lot of enemies to build up your levels before the Boss fight.

To find the Boss, head to the southeastern corner of the forest and examine the tree. There's a large hole in it, and a Wood Sprite will open the tunnel below. A fight ensues as you attempt to enter it.

Suggested Level: 38

Weakness: None

Item Won: None

WoodSprite

Bring along as many Summoners as possible, as well as a few characters with the White Mage ability. The main part of WoodSprite's attack is its defense, which is Reflect. Because of this, avoid casting any elemental Black magic, unless you cast Dispel on it.

Otherwise, use Summon Magic like Leviathan or Black magic like Flare. WoodSprite usually doesn't attack, so this fight will be fairly easy.

The Water Fall area is incredibly straightforward, plus it also contains the first Save Point. Just outside the Save Point, you'll see a weird-looking robot. This robot is called Omega, and you'll want to avoid it all costs.

If you encounter difficulties, simply inch up close to it near the cliff, and then dash through when it moves closer to the wall. The next room contains the Boss of the falls.

Suggested Level: 50+
Weakness: Bolt
Item Won: None

Omega (Optional)

Omega is one of the two "optional" Boss fights that you will encounter in N-Zone. Fighting this Boss is only recommended for those who have truly mastered the game and have several different jobs mastered for each character.

The most important jobs to have mastered are Sorcerer, Hunter and Ninja. Sorcerers can use Magic Sword attacks, the Hunter will have the IShot ability, while the Ninja can equip two swords.

With these classes mastered, you must then have four Fire Rings in your inventory to equip on all the characters. This will protect you from some of Omega's nastier attacks, like Atom Ray and Burn Ray. You should also equip the three non-Mimes with two swords apiece. Then make three of your characters "Bare" and the fourth into Mime. The Bare characters should have ISword and IShot as their two chosen abilities, and the Mime should have ITime Lv.5 and IWhite Lv. 5.

Now that you're set, start the fight and immediately have all the Bare fighters cast Bolt3 to their swords, followed by the Mime casting Haste2 on the party. During the next round, have all the Bare fighters use IShot, while the Mime should concentrate on healing.

Apprehender

To defeat Apprehender, bring along your toughest Black Magic and repeatedly cast Fire3. To avoid wasting MP, bring a quick Black Mage and three Mimes to do the work. The Boss is weak against Fire, but don't summon Ifrit or it will heal it. You should also summon Golem to guard against Apprehender's physical hits.

NOTE

If you have a character with the Steal ability in your party, you can steal Ash from Apprehender.

THE TOWER OF N-ZONE

Up the Tower

After the Boss fight, read the book on the desk, after which you'll see a flash. This signifies that once you exit the room, you'll end up above the clouds in a spectral tower.

If you need to see the invisible tower paths that follow, place a Thief with the Secret ability in your party, but this isn't entirely necessary. The road to the main tower is fairly easy enough to follow.

When you enter the tower, pick up the treasures on either side in the small turrets, and then head through the lower, left-hand doorway to reach the prison area.

You must fight a string of Bosses in all of the occupied cells. The order that follows indicates the best order, because after you destroy Azulmagia, you'll get a Save Point. To fight any of the Bosses, go up to the cell bars.

The following are the locations of each Boss:

Far right (bottom):	Alte Roit/Jura Avis (3)
Far right (top):	Catastroph

Azulmagia

Suggested Level: 37
Weakness: Poison
Item Won: None

Tell Azulmagia that you are the ones with the Crystal Shards. Make sure you have a Sorcerer in your party so you can cast Blo on his/her sword. You can even have three Mimes mimic the attack as well. If you continue to hit Azulmagia with Blo and Bio Sword magc, you'll have no problems. Also, you can quickly defeat it by having ISshot for your Sorcerer. This will hit the Boss four times for each character with Mimic.

NOTE

You can steal a Giant'sGlove from Azulmagia.

Alte Roit/Jura Avis

Suggested Level: 37
Weakness: None
Item Won: Dragon Fang

Against any of the six Alte Roit Bosses, you'll definitely want a party member who can cast Return (Time Magc) at any given time. At the start of the battle, cast Holy or Demi2 on your weapons. Alte Roit isn't very powerful, but it can cast Encircle to erase one of your party members. If this happens, use Return to start the battle over again.

After causing about 5000 to 6000 points of damage to Alte Roit, it will transform into its "true form," Jura Avis. A big dragon with the ability to cast Air Wing among other spells, you can dispose of it by using elemental spells like Bolt, Fire, or Ice. Rely on your Summon magic to win this battle.

Suggested Level: 38
Weakness: None
Item Won: None

Catastroph

The battle against Catastroph can be one of the easiest Boss fights in the entire game—if you come prepared. First, cast Float on each party member, and then equip at least one character with a Wall Ring.

Catastroph will use its Gravity100 spell to ground the floating party members not equipped with a Wall Ring. However, since one character is still floating, Catastroph will continually cast Gravity100 throughout the entire battle. The spell causes no damage, so you're free to attack it with all you've got.

The Imprisoned Woman

After clearing the dungeon, you'll notice a woman standing in the far, upper-right cell. Follow her up the staircase.

Save your game and follow her up the small set of steps to reach the top of the tower. Enter the center door and head up to the throne. If you try to enter the small door to the left a few times, you'll finally get pushed away and the woman will find you again.

This time, however, she's not looking for a date. She transforms into the "King of Dimension Castle, Lord Halycanos" and challenges you to a fight!

Suggested Level: 38
Weakness: None
Item Won: None

Halycanos

Halycanos starts the battle by turning your entire party into frogs! Make sure you have a Sorcerer in your party, along with a White Mage. Use Maiden's Kiss to restore everyone, and then use Mute Sword magic to silence and attack Halycanos repeatedly. This will silence its magic spells, but don't forget about its physical attack, which can cause up to 5000 points of damage to a single character.

Try casting Mini on Halycanos, as well as spells like Slow2 or Demi2. Also, you can summon Golem to protect your party from the Boss' physical hits.

NOTE

You can steal a Lumino-Staff from Halycanos.

As you head up the tower, you'll undoubtedly come across an enemy called Yojimbo (it resembles a dressed-down samurai). If you can withstand its Squeeze attacks and high power, you should try to steal items from it. Usually, it will only have Cottages, but on a rare occasion you can obtain a Stratos weapon by using your Thief's Mug ability. The Stratos is the most powerful Katana in the game, and even surpasses the Masamune in strength.

Suggested Level: 39
Weakness: Water, Holy
Item Won: Tinkerbell (randomly)

Twin Tania

For this fight, make sure you have one of the four classes: Summoners, White Mages, Blue Mages, Time Mages, and Sorcerers. Also, equip Coral Rings on everybody so you can absorb Twin Tania's lethal Tidal Wave attack. If you have a Time Mage in your party, start the fight by casting Slow2. This Boss moves fast, so any help you can get is a plus. Next, cast Guardian on your party using a Blue Mage. Then cast Golem to avoid physical damage. Now you can throw Leviathan and Holy at it. Use Cure3 whenever you need to, and try to stay at max HP at all times to avoid getting wiped out by Twin Tania's Gigafire attack.

An easier and quicker way to destroy Twin Tania is to wait for the message that indicates that it's gathering power. When you see it, immediately attack it with Odin. This is its most vulnerable moment, causing it to go down easy.

THE FINAL MAZE

Warping to the Final Dimension

After the fight with Twin Tania, climb the stairs to the top platform to warp to the final area of the N-Zone dungeon. You must make your way through each of the following areas to the warp, which will then take you to the next part of the maze.

From the entrance warp, head to the next one to the south. Here you'll find a familiar face—it's Gilgamesh, fully transformed!

Suggested Level: N/A
Weakness: None
Item Won: None

Sub-Boss: Gilgamesh

Start the fight by casting Golem to protect your party from Gilgamesh's sword hits, and then pound the Boss with your most powerful attacks. After a few rounds, Gilgamesh will ask that you help him find a way out and tells you that he'll meet you on the other side.

Gilgamesh will then escape, giving you access to the next warp point.

NOTE

You can steal a Genji Shield during the fight against Gilgamesh.

Suggested Level: Very high
Weakness: None
Item Won: Dragon Seal

Secret Boss: Shinryu (Optional)

After clearing the third warp (entrance warp, Gilgamesh warp, Warp #2, Warp #3), you'll spot a chest at the bottom of a staircase. DON'T open it unless you're prepared! Inside, you'll have to fight Shinryu—an incredibly brutal Boss, even tougher than X-Death.

To defeat this Boss, you need four Coral Rings, eight Dragon Lances, and everyone must have mastered the Ninja class, learned the Thief's Mug ability, and learned the Lancer's Jump ability.

You can only get the Dragon Lances by mugging a monster called the CrystalDragon in the N-Zone. This is the only weapon that will inflict critical damage against Shinryu and is necessary to defeat it.

Make each of your characters Bare, and then equip them with two Dragon Lances apiece. Also, stick Jump in as one of their abilities. When the fight begins, Shinryu will cast Tidal Wave, which you should be able to absorb with your Coral Rings, and then JUMP!

When each character comes down, you'll cause enough critical damage that Shinryu will go down immediately! You'll then be able to get the Dragon Seal and Ragnarok!

Finding NecroPhobe

When you reach the second to the last warp, explore the far, upper-left area of the platform. You should spot a glowing green orb. Heal up, and then examine it to fight the Sub-Boss, Necrophobe! If you defeat it, you'll gain access to the all-important final Save Point.

Sub-Boss: NecroPhobe

Suggested Level: N/A
Weakness: Holy
Item Won: None

If your levels and HP are high enough, this fight shouldn't be too tough. Necrophobe has four barriers surrounding it that will protect it from any attacks. When the fight begins, each barrier will cast Flare to each of your characters. Avoid using Black Magic at this point, because each of the barriers has Reflect enabled.

Summon Golem to defend against Necrophobe's powerful physical hits, and then cast as many "all party" Summon spells as possible. Try using Leviathan, Bahamut, or Odin from all your party members (it's smart to bring some Mimes), and the barriers should go down after only four or five rounds. The Samurai's $Toss ability is also very helpful for taking care of the barriers. To finish off NecroPhobe, summon Odin, which has a high attack rate using VengSwrd against this particular Boss.

NOTE

You can steal an Eldr or a Thief'sGlove from Necrophobe.

Secret: Gilgamesh's Farewell!

To see Gilgamesh's goodbye speech, you must avoid killing Necrophobe after destroying all four barriers. Keep at the Boss, but don't kill it. After you whittle down its HP to around 10% (about 5000 HP), a visitor stops by: Gilgamesh!

You won't need to do any more fighting when this happens, because Gilgamesh will take care of NecroPhobe for you. But do try stealing a Genji Glove from Gilgamesh for old time's sake.

Mastering Jobs

Now that you've found a Save Point and you hopefully have ■ Cottage and a few Tents to heal your party, fight lots of the monsters wandering the final dungeon.

Most fights will net you around 25 to 30 ABP, and if you can find and defeat the Mover enemies, you'll receive a whopping 199 ABP and at least 100,000 GP! It's important to max out your jobs, so that you are prepared to face X-Death.

What to Bring to the Final Fight

Classes

Bare	Bartz
Mimes	Reina, Krile, Faris

Jobs Mastered

Bartz:	Knight, Monk, Thief, Samurai, Chemist
Reina:	Monk, White Mage, Black Mage, Time Mage, Red Mage
Faris:	Monk, Thief, Samurai, Summoner, Mime
Krile:	Monk, White Mage, Black Mage, Blue Mage, Red Mage

NOTE

You can swap between Reina, Faris and Krile for which jobs are mastered, however, Bartz must at least have the listed jobs mastered.

Abilities

Bartz:	$Toss, !Mix
Reina:	Redx2, !White (Level 6), !Time (Level 6)
Faris:	$Toss, Summon, Item
Krile:	Redx2, !Black, !Blue

The Final Fight with X-Death

When the battle begins, cast Guardian, !Mix, Golem, and Haste2 on your entire party. Then pummel X-Death with everything you have: Holy, Leviathan, Bahamut, Flare, Meteor—these all work wonders against it.

Watch out for X-Death's White Ball attack, which will petrify and kill one party member. You must use Raise and Soft or Esna to cure them.

After this fight, prepare for the ultimate battle against X-Death's new form: Neo X-Deth!

Fighting Neo X-Deth: Helpful Fighting Hints

Before fighting Neo X-Deth, check out the following hints to ensure an easier fight.

- Bring along plenty of Esna and Arise
- Avoid bringing Summon spells
- Make sure that Golem was cast to your entire party
- Use the $Toss ability

The Endings

For each character that is still alive at the end of the battle with Neo X-Deth, you'll see an event involving their ending. So, if all four party members are still alive (wounded, petrified, or zombie don't count), you'll get to watch all four endings. Enjoy the show and congratulations on a job well done!

FINAL FANTASY® VI

WALT DISNEY PICTURES PRESENTS
A SQUARE ENIX PRODUCTION
FINAL FANTASY VI

Characters

Terra Branford

"A mysterious young woman, controlled by the Empire, and born with the gift of magic...."

Terra is one of two characters at the beginning of the game who can use magic. Her knowledge of magic is limited at first but is still very useful. As Terra's skill level grows, she'll slowly learn new spells. Her skill will eventually be supplemented or rather enhanced with the use of Espers, but she can still learn spells until the very end of the game, including the powerful Ultima spell.

Terra's Skill: Morph

Terra has the power to MORPH, which changes her physical appearance to that of an Esper. Doing so doubles the power of her magic. This skill isn't available to her at the beginning of the game.

Morphing puts quite a strain on Terra, so she can't morph as often as you might want. When morphing, a green bar that represents Terra's stamina replaces Terra's ATB bar. When the green bar is depleted, Terra automatically reverts to her normal human form. If this occurs, it may take several battles before Terra is rested enough to use her Morph ability again. Also, the rate at which the stamina bar is depleted is determined by how long since Terra last morphed. It's essential not to overuse her Morph skill, or she'll only be able to hold Esper form in Boss battles for a single turn or less.

Locke Cole

"Treasure Hunter and trail-worn traveler, searching the world over for relics of the past...."

Locke is a Treasure Hunter (a.k.a. a thief). He possesses greater dexterity and speed than other characters but never really learns to pack much of a punch. However, his skills as a Treasure Hunter make him a valuable asset throughout the game.

Locke's Skill: Steal

As a master Treasure Hunter, Locke has learned to use the Steal skill. Using the Steal command in a battle makes Locke attempt to steal an item from an enemy. At first, Locke's success rate will be pretty low even against weak creatures. Eventually, you can get the Sneak Ring Relic that increases his chances of successfully stealing items. You can also find the Thief Glove Relic, which changes the Steal command into the Capture command.

Capture is different from Steal in that Locke also attacks the enemy while attempting to steal an item. The same "Capture" action can randomly be performed by equipping Locke with a Thief Knife and attacking normally.

Stealing items from enemies is an easy way to increase your inventory of common items. Rarer items like weapons and armor can also be stolen and then sold or equipped. Check the bestiary for specific information on what can be stolen from each monster.

Edgar Roni Figaro

The young king of Figaro Castle, ally to the Empire, and ■ master designer of machinery...."

Edgar and his brother, Sabin, are the heirs to Figaro Castle. He is a fair ruler and loved dearly by his subjects. Due to his prowess with machines, Edgar finds useful Tools that can be used in battle, and he has given Figaro Castle the amazing ability to travel underground. As the King of Figaro Castle, Edgar is allowed a 50% discount at the Castle's shops.

Edgar's Skill: Tools

As the game begins, Edgar has a limited number of Tools that he can use in battle. The effects of these Tools vary greatly, but all of them are useful. Some Tools found in the early stages of the game may become obsolete as time passes, but you can count on finding new Tools to take their place. Some Tools must be found, but most others can eventually be purchased at Figaro Castle, so be sure to check back there often.

Auto Crossbow

Shoots a flurry of arrows at all enemies in battle.

Noise Blaster

Blasts an entire group of enemies with a loud sound that leaves them temporarily confused.

Bio Blaster

Engulfs ■ group of enemies in ■ cloud of poisonous gas that can sometimes leave them poisoned.

Rebilitator

This Tool doesn't attack, but it does create elemental weaknesses in an enemy, which makes an enemy easier to defeat.

Flash

Blinds and damages a group of enemies with a brilliant blast of white light.

Drill

Drills through an enemy's defenses to cause a painful wound.

Chain Saw

This Tool is randomly used in one of two ways. The most common is a strong spinning attack that causes damage to one enemy. The rare second is a brutal attack that attempts to destroy the enemy in a single shot.

Air Anchor

This rare Tool can only be found in a hidden room in the Tower of Fanatics. An enemy hit by its bolts will self-destruct upon moving.

Sabin Rene Figaro

"Edgar's twin brother, who traded the throne for his own freedom...."

Sabin and his twin brother, Edgar, are the rightful heirs to Figaro Castle. Unlike his brother, who remained behind to rule, Sabin set out to find his own path and to avenge his parents' deaths. He met up with a master of martial arts named Duncan, who taught him the secret of the Blitz techniques.

Sabin's Skill: Blitz

Early in the game, Sabin is the strongest fighter. His Blitz techniques give him a wide variety of special attacks that enable him to rely more on his bare fists than on weapons.

Blitz techniques are slowly learned throughout the game as Sabin gains experience. He begins the game with three: Pummel, Aura Bolt, and Suplex. To use a Blitz technique, select the Blitz command in battle, enter the proper command using the directional pad and buttons on your controller, and then confirm the move with the  button. If done properly, Sabin will perform the Blitz you've chosen. If you misenter the command, however, Sabin will fumble the move and will miss his opportunity to attack.

Note

If you've been playing fighting games for years, using Sabin's Blitz techniques will be straight-forward. Unlike a fighting game, it doesn't matter which way Sabin is facing. The commands are always entered the same no matter which side of the screen Sabin is on.

Pummel

Command:

Sabin attacks the enemy with a flurry of powerful punches.

Aura Bolt

Command:

Focusing his power, Sabin blasts the enemy with a beam of Holy light. This attack works best against undead enemies.

Suplex

Command:

Sabin's mighty muscles give him the strength to pick up an enemy and slam it into the ground.

Fire Dance

Command:

A quick chant creates several fiery clones of Sabin that burn a group of enemies to a crisp. This attack works best against enemies with a weakness against Fire magic.

Mantra

Command: R1 L1 R1 L1

Sabin's purity of spirit allows him to heal his party's wounds.

Air Blade

Command:

Sabin's quick movements create sharp gusts of air that are hurled into a group of enemies. This attack works best against enemies with a weakness against Wind magic.

Spiraler

Command: R1 L1 ▲ ■ →

Sabin sacrifices his life to heal the rest of his party.

Bum Rush

Command: ← ↖ ↑ ↗ → ↘ ↓ ↙ ←

This technique can only be learned from Duncan in the World of Ruin. Although this is a tough technique to perform, the damage caused is well worth the effort.

Shadow

"He owes allegiance to no one, and will do anything for money. He comes and goes like the wind...."

While he may not be the friendliest guy, Shadow is valuable to have around. His ninja skills and faithful companion, Interceptor, make him a well-balanced character. Unlike most characters, you don't have much control over Shadow. He comes and goes at his own will and won't join your party again until he's compelled by money or revenge.

Shadow's Skill: Throw

Like any good ninja master, Shadow has mastered the art of throwing weapons. He can toss weapons and special magical scrolls at enemies. His most common throwing weapon is a Shuriken, which can be purchased at a reasonable price from the various shops scattered throughout the world.

Shadow can also throw weapons from your inventory at enemies, but any weapon thrown is lost for good. That's why it's usually best to throw the easily replaced Shuriken.

For an extra kick, Shadow can throw magic scrolls at enemies. They're a bit more expensive than a Shuriken, but they're also more powerful.

Shadow's Dog: Interceptor

Although you don't have the ability to summon Interceptor into battle, there's a random chance Shadow's dog may show up on its own. Anytime Shadow blocks an enemy attack, there's a small random chance that Interceptor may charge into battle and counterattack the offending enemy. The dog's attacks are very powerful and a great help at any time.

Celes Chere

"Product of genetic engineering, battle-hardened MagiTek Knight, with a spirit as pure as snow...."

Celes is the second person to join your party with the ability to use magic without the aid of Espers. She begins the game with a limited number of spells at her disposal, but with time and experience, she'll slowly learn new spells. Eventually, the use of Espers makes this ability somewhat obsolete.

Celes' Skill: Runic

By equipping certain swords, Celes is able to use the Runic skill. When selected, she will absorb the next spell cast during battle whether friend or foe casts it. By absorbing the spell, its effect is neutralized and Celes gains the amount of MP used to cast the spell. This is a great way to gain a little extra MP early on in the game. It also comes in extremely handy in battles against enemies that attack solely with magic.

Cyan Garamonde

"Faithful retainer to his family's liege, with the courage and strength of a hundred men...."

As the master swordsman of Doma Castle, it's no surprise that Cyan is a force to be reckoned with. His power is equal to that of Sabin, but his attacks take time to prepare and can sometimes delay the actions of his allies. Yet even with this shortcoming, Cyan proves to be one of the best characters available to you.

Cyan's Skill: SwordTech

When equipped with the proper weapon, Cyan can use his SwordTech ability in battle. He begins the game with three of the eight SwordTech skills: Dispatch, Retort, and Slash. Over time, he gains additional skills as he gathers experience in battle.

When the SwordTech command is selected, a gauge will appear at the bottom of the screen. You must wait as the gauge slowly fills to the number of the SwordTech skill you wish for Cyan to use, and then press the  button. If the gauge fills completely, it resets and you must wait again for it to fill to the level you desire.

Dispatch (1)

A quick and powerful attack that's best used early on in the game, when Cyan's attack power is still low.

Retort (2)

Cyan waits to perform a single, powerful counterattack against the first enemy that attacks him that turn.

Slash (3)

This attack attempts to cut the enemy's HP in half and causes HP draining seizures. Unfortunately, the attack has a low success rate.

Quadra Slam (4)

With four quick attacks, Cyan flies around the battlefield, striking down his enemies.

Empowerer (5)

When Cyan is running low on HP and MP, the Empowerer can be a lifesaver. The attack drains HP and MP from the enemy to restore Cyan's vital stats.

Stunner (6)

Not only does this attack cause damage to an entire group of enemies, those it doesn't destroy, it casts Stop on.

Quadra Slice (7)

The Quadra Slam is nearly the same as the Quadra Slice, but twice as powerful.

Cleave (8)

With blinding speed, Cyan flies across the battlefield. Those that taste his blade are split in two.

"Draped in monster hides, eyes shining with intelligence. A youth surviving against all odds...."

Gau is the wild child of the Veldt. After being kicked out into the wild by his father, he learned to live with the animals and began taking on their actions. This gave way to his Rage skill, which imitates creatures that Gau has followed on the Veldt. Although his attacks are powerful, his uncontrollable behavior while using the Rage ability can make him a detriment in some battles.

Gau's Skill: Leap/Rage

Gau's Rage ability allows him to take on the abilities, strengths, and weaknesses of enemies that he's had the chance to run with in the Veldt. This gives him a wide variety of attacks but also limits his usefulness in battle. When a Rage skill is selected, Gau goes into a berserk mode where he randomly uses the selected enemy's attacks against whatever enemy he chooses. Once he enters Rage mode, you cannot change his attacks unless he is K.O.ed and revived.

Gau can learn the abilities of nearly any enemy in the game. However, he must first encounter the enemy on the Veldt and use the Leap command, which only appears there. When you select the Leap command in a battle, Gau will jump into the enemy pack, and the battle will end automatically. Continue to roam the area with your party, and Gau will eventually return to your party after a battle. In the time he was gone, he will have learned how to mimic the creatures he went away with and the creatures he returns with.

As mentioned earlier, Gau can learn to mimic nearly any creature in the game. However, you'll only encounter creatures in the Veldt that you've already encountered elsewhere. To maximize Gau's abilities, you must return to the Veldt often.

Setzer Gabbiani

A blackjack-playing, world-traveling, casino-dwelling free spirit...."

Setzer's main contribution to your party is his Airship. With it, you'll be able to explore the world freely, visiting new locations and checking back in at old ones. His love of gambling shows up in all aspects of his life, from the décor of his ship, to his choice in weapons. Although he can be a powerful ally, putting him in your party is a gamble in itself.

Setzer's Skill: Slot/GP Rain

Setzer's Slot skill acts just like a normal slot machine, but there's no GP to be earned. Rather, the Slot's outcome determines what type of attack Setzer will use that turn. If you're good, you can almost always get decent results. However, for most people it's just a little too risky to use in most battles.

Once you find the Coin Toss Relic, you can transform Setzer's Slot command into the GP Rain command. With this attack, Setzer actually tosses your GP at enemies. It can cause a lot of damage, but it can also drain your party dry of GP.

Slot Combinations

Lagomorph

This is the result of any spin that isn't one of the following. A curious little creature appears and restores a very small amount of HP for the entire party.

Flash

Attacks enemies with a flash of rainbow colored light.

Chocobop

The enemy is trampled by a wild herd of Chocobos.

Magicite

Summons a random Esper to assist in battle.

H-Bomb

Setzer's Airship drops a bomb on the party's enemies, toasting them to a crisp.

Mega Flare

Blasts the enemy with fire from a legendary dragon.

7-Flush

Instantly defeats all enemies on-screen.

Joker Doom

Instantly defeats all enemies and allies—not good.

Mog

"Human-loving, fast-talking, street-smart, SLAM-dancing...Mooglee...."

Although he isn't the king of the Moogles, he should be. Not only can he speak to humans, but he's also a great dancer, and not bad in a fight. He lives with his Moogle buddies deep inside the Narshe Mines and rarely ventures outside. Still, he's pretty worldly for a fluffy, little, pink-nosed teddy bear.

Mog's Skill: Dance

By traveling around the world and fighting in new areas, Mog learns magical Dances that hurt his enemies and aid his allies. Although Mog starts the game without knowing any Dances, he's a quick learner. One or two fights in the right area are all he needs to pick up some new steps.

To use the Dance command, select it in battle and then select the Dance you want Mog to perform. He'll immediately start showing off some of his fancy moves. Mog then continues to Dance until the battle ends, he's K.O.ed, or he stumbles. Although he's a great Dancer, even the best can sometimes crack under pressure. If Mog stumbles, he'll lose his chance to attack that turn. But he can try to pick up where he left off the next turn if you wish.

Strago Magus

"An elderly gentleman, pure of heart, and learned in the ways of monsters...."

Strago possesses the rare ability to learn Blue Magic. Unlike normal magic, Blue Magic is the magic used by monsters. Don't confuse this with Gau's Rage ability. Blue Magic is a bit more sophisticated and is used like normal magic. Strago is also quite adept at the use of Rods, which are magical staves with magical powers.

Strago's Skill: Lore

The Lore ability allows Strago to learn Blue Magic from the enemies he fights. If a monster uses a type of Blue Magic that Strago can learn, he'll gain the use of the spell once the battle is finished, but only if Strago is hurt by the spell during battle. Blue Magic tends to use a lot of MP, but it's also very powerful.

Relm Arrowny

"In her pictures she captures everything: forests, water, light...the very essence of life...."

Relm is the granddaughter of Strago and a talented artist. She's a little rambunctious and sometimes obnoxious, but she'll quickly prove herself in battle.

Relm's Skill: Sketch/Control

Have you ever heard of a good painting gone bad? Relm is such an incredible artist that her paintings not only seem life-like, they are alive. By using her Sketch command in battle, Relm quickly paints a replica of one of her enemies. The painting will then use one of the enemy's abilities as if the painting were alive itself.

Once you've found the Fake Mustache Relic, Relm can equip it and change her Sketch command to Control. When Relm takes Control of an enemy, she actually gets to pick and choose what attacks the enemy uses and whom it targets.

Umaro

"Admirer of bone-carvings, as strong as a gigas, a yeti pal with muscle!"

There's a hidden cave in cliffs above the town of Narshe where this giant yeti lives. Umaro may not be the smartest of creatures, but he sure does pack a punch. Just make sure you have Mog with you when you meet him. He's the only one the big guy will listen too. Unlike most characters, Umaro can't equip weapons, armor, or Espers.

Umaro's Skill: None

Umaro doesn't really have any skills. He's just a loose cannon with way too much power. There are two special Relics that only Umaro can use: Rage Ring and Blizzard Orb. The Rage Ring increases his attack options and power. The Blizzard Orb allows him to attack using his blizzard breath.

Gogo

"Shrouded in odd clothing...is this a man...?...a woman...?...or should we ask?"

What do you expect from a person living inside a Zone Eater's belly? Gogo is one strange character. As a mime, Gogo doesn't actually have any actions of its own. Rather, it looks for people that it feels are worthy of its art and mimics that person's actions. It may not sound like much, but it makes Gogo an incredibly versatile character.

Gogo's Skill: Mimic

When you choose Gogo's Mimic ability, it will mimic the actions of the ally that acted just before it takes its turn. Gogo can't mimic most effects granted by Relics. On the other hand, it doesn't cost MP for Gogo to Mimic spells, and it can Mimic other people's skills without having to charge or perform an action.

Another useful thing that's easily overlooked is the fact that you can customize Gogo's command menu. Go to Gogo's status screen and select an empty space in Gogo's command menu. You'll be given a list of commands associated with all of the characters you have at your disposal. You can equip Gogo with three additional commands, so you can give it Sabin's Blitz, Cyan's SwordTech, and even Edgar's Tools at the same time.

If you choose magic as a command for Gogo, you should know that Gogo will have access to the spells the other characters in the current party have learned. Gogo can't equip Espers, so this is the only way it can use magic.

NARSHE

Checklist

- ☐ Pilot the MagiTek Armor through town and into the mineshaft at the back
- ☐ Defeat the Whelk inside the mineshaft
- ☐ Approach the frozen Esper, Tritoch
- ☐ Flee into the mine to escape the Narshe guard patrol
- ☐ Meet Locke and the Moogles
- ☐ Battle the Marshal and then flee from Narshe
- ☐ Head south to Figaro Castle
(Optional)
- ☐ Visit Narshe's Training Center

The Grand Entrance

At the beginning of the game, you control two soldiers, Wedge and Biggs, and an unnamed girl. Each character is strapped into what is known as MagiTek Armor. Although the three characters are weak on their own, the MagiTek Armor gives them more than enough power to defeat their enemies in Narshe.

Due to the danger of the situation, none of the characters can exit their MagiTek Armor. Therefore, exploring is limited to the main strip right through the center of town. This makes it very easy to navigate Narshe.

Using MagiTek Armor

MagiTek Armor comes with several built-in attacks. The basic armor has three elemental attacks and a healing option for repairing itself and any other allied forces. Later, more advanced models have eight attacks. This includes the three elemental attacks and healing option, plus four more equally powerful attacks. You should be able to eliminate your enemies with any attack, however, the Bio Blast is particularly effective against large groups of enemies (except Were-Rats).

Also, make sure you use the healing option often to keep you and your allies in top physical condition. There's no limit as to how many times you can use any of the attacks, so have fun and experiment with them all while you can.

Saving Your Progress

Upon entering the mineshaft, you'll see a shiny, blue-white spot on the ground, signifies a Save Point, where you can save your game to a memory card. Get to know these, as you'll be using them a lot throughout your adventure.

You can only save your game outside on the World Map, or at a Save Point in a town or dungeon. Usually, Save Points are placed right before critical events and challenging battles, so you should always use them. WARNING! Failing to save often has been found to be the leading cause of controller breakage.

Whelk

At the end of the mineshaft, you'll face the first Boss in FINAL FANTASY VI, the Whelk. This creature isn't tough if you're careful. There are two parts to the Whelk: the head and the shell. The Whelk's shell can absorb damage and redirect it back at your party. The Whelk's head is its weak spot, so you'll only want to attack its head. When it dies, the rest of the monster goes with it.

Take things nice and slow in this battle, and attack the head with one character at a time. Eventually, the Whelk will pull in its head into its shell without warning. When this occurs, any attacks directed at its head instead target its shell. Accidentally hitting the shell once isn't a big deal, because you can quickly heal your party using the MagiTek Armor's Heal Force ability. However, if you've already committed your entire party to attacking the head when the Whelk retreats into its shell, you'll be lucky to survive the flurry of three Mega Volt counterattacks. You can avoid this by attacking the Whelk with one character at a time. Also, don't enter any new commands until the last character's attack is finished.

Locke and the Moogles

Terra is knocked out and hordes of Narshe guards are one step away from capturing her. It's up to Locke and the Moogles to save her. During this event, you gain control of Locke and 11 Moogles split up to form three teams. Your goal is to stop the guards' advance by defeating them in battle. After defeating the roaming guards, you must then defeat the Marshal waiting on the other side.

Have one group block the hall in front of Terra, and use the other two groups to hunt down the guards. You can switch between the three parties by pressing the S button. You should balance the amount of fighting you do between the groups so that you don't completely drain a group's HP.

The first group contains Locke, but there's a Moogle in the second group named Mog that you should pay attention to. Mog will learn a Dance called Dusk Requim, which is a skill unique among the Moogles. This Dance is extremely powerful and can help a great deal during the battles. You may even want to use Mog's group to challenge the Marshal.

Beginner's Training Center

There is a classroom for the beginner. There are answers given to questions about the world. Run of an on your adventure.

After escaping Narshe, you won't be able to return to the town until things calm down. On the edge of town, you'll find a man in front of a large house. This is the Training Center. Go inside and speak with everyone to learn about the basics of FINAL FANTASY VI. You can also find a few good items. Also, don't forget that you can restore Locke's and Terra's HP and MP by using the recovery water next to the desk.

Explore Figaro Castle

Take a few moments to explore Figaro Castle. You can find several useful items and two shops. Make sure you purchase a couple of Phoenix Downs if you have the GP. Also, make sure you purchase the first set of Edgar's tools. They'll really come in handy later on. Don't miss out on the free room and board if Terra and Locke are in need of a little rest after their long journey.

The Escape

As you flee from Figaro Castle, you're forced into a fight against two of Kefka's guards in MagiTek Armor. However, this battle isn't tough. Have Edgar use his AutoCrossbow and have Terra cast Fire on the enemies.

Casting on Multiple Targets:

To cast a spell on multiple allies or enemies, simply move the targeting cursor over a person (or enemy) in the group you wish to target and press the R1 button. Note that this doesn't work with all spells.

Casting Fire will cause the battle to pause for a while, as Edgar and Locke marvel at Terra's magical gift. If you don't use magic during this battle, you'll see this event the first time you use magic in a battle.

FIGARO AREA CAVE

Checklist

- ☐ Use the recovery spring to heal your party
- ☐ Exit the cave and head southeast to South Figaro

TO FIGARO DESERT

TO SOUTH FIGARO

Recovery Spring

There's a recovery spring just inside the cave. If you visited the Beginner's Hall in Narshe, then you already know about these. Stop in the middle of the spring, and your entire party will be healed, plus their MP will be restored. There's no limit to how many times you can use the recovery spring.

Stock Up on Healing Items

Thanks to Edgar's NoiseBlaster, it's easy to stock up on healing items while venturing through the cave. Use the NoiseBlaster to confuse your enemies, and then have Locke steal from them. If an enemy recovers, you can eliminate them or use the NoiseBlaster again.

Also, take note that Edgar's AutoCrossbow is great for eliminating the large groups of enemies that often appear inside the cave.

Treasure Trick

The chests inside the cave contain some very basic items that can come in handy. If, however, you're willing to hold off on opening the chest until later in the game (we'll tell you when later), you can receive even better items, such as a Thunder Rod and an X-Potion.

The Old Man and the Cider

Don't drive yourself nuts trying to figure out how to get some Cider for the old man. You can't do this quite yet, but you'll get your chance eventually.

I don't like strangers.
Bring me some cider, and maybe I'll talk to you.

Upgrading Weapons and Armor

This is your first chance to upgrade each party member's weapons and armor. Don't miss out on the great deals South Figaro's shops have to offer. You'll need the added attack and defense power in the battles to come.

Precious Relics

Relics are a very important part of the game. There are several Relics you can purchase or find in South Figaro. You should get two for each character, but don't forget to equip them.

In particular, you'll want the Running Shoes and Hyper Wrist from Owzer's basement. You may also want to purchase Sprint Shoes so you can walk faster in towns and dungeons.

Millionaire's Basement

Owzer is the town's richest citizen, but not the smartest. Check behind the bookcase in Owzer's room to find a hidden passage that leads to a basement full of treasure. Robbing Owzer blind will give you the extra GP you need to upgrade each party member's weapons and armor before heading to Mt. Kolts.

MT. KOLTS

Checklist

- ☐ Head northeast to Mt. Kolts
- ☐ Follow the shadowed figure across the mountain
- ☐ Battle Vargas and the Ipoochs
- ☐ Meet Sabin and equip him once he joins the party
- ☐ Continue over Mt. Kolts and head north to the Returners' Hideout
- (Optional)
- ☐ Visit Sabin's hut (north of South Figaro) to rest for free

Sabin's Hut

There's a lone hut to the north of South Figaro. As you explore the inside, Edgar will recognize various items as some of Sabin's favorite things.

You can rest here for free at any time by getting into any of the three beds. Also, don't miss out on the hidden Tonic in the bucket next to the stove. As you leave the hut, speak with the old man outside and he'll tell you that Sabin headed to Mt. Kolts.

Brawler Bandanas

There are Brawlers all over Mt. Kolts. These tough fighters carry Bandanas, which Locke can steal from them. Try to get a few of them, because they're slightly better armor than the Plumed Hats you can purchase in South Figaro. Also, keep in mind that you can sell any extra Bandanas for additional GP.

Be Sure to Save

There's a Save Point near the end of Mt. Kolts. Make sure you use it to save your game. You may also want to use a Tent to heal your characters before moving on.

Vargas & Ipoohs

Vargas is well protected by the Ipoohs. Use Edgar's Bio Blaster and Terra's Fire magic to quickly eliminate them so that you can begin attacking Vargas. You must be prepared to cast Cure at all times, because Vargas' attacks are very strong. Continue using the Bio Blaster on Vargas and, in a few short turns, Sabin will jump into battle. To finish the fight, select Sabin's Blitz command and quickly enter the Pummel command (←, →, ← and then press the  button). If you have difficulty entering the Blitz command, access the Main Menu and select "Config." While in the Config sub-menu, set the battle speed to 6. This will give you a bit more time to enter Sabin's Blitz commands.

Sabin's Blitz Technique:

To enter a Blitz command, you must select the Blitz option from Sabin's battle menu. Enter the correct sequence on the D-pad, and then finish it by pressing the  button.

Sabin Joins

Sabin becomes a member of your party after the battle with Vargas. Quickly check his equipment and relics, because you may have useful items for him. Also, examine Sabin's skills in the main menu and check out his Blitz commands. Sabin starts with three: Pummel, AuraBolt, and Suplex. Start practicing them now.

Hidden Passage

There's a hidden passage in the right wall of the "treasure room." Work your way through the invisible path to find a new relic, the White Cape.

Received "White Cape"

Banon's Request

Banon asks Terra to assist the Returners, and awaits her answer near the Hideout's entrance. If you agree to help, you'll later be given a Gauntlet, but you can get a better item if you hold out. Say no to Banon three times, and you'll receive a Genji Glove instead of the Gauntlet, which in my opinion is a much better relic because it enables you to equip two weapons on a party member and attack an enemy with both.

LETE RIVER

Checklist

- ☐ Direct the raft down the river
- ☐ Keep Banon from being K.O.ed during battles
- ☐ Defeat Ultros the octopus
- ☐ Choose which character's adventure to follow

Raging River

The Lete River is a twisting mess of channels. Your goal is to figure out the path to the end. Each time the raft stops, choose one of the listed directions. If you choose poorly, you get returned to a point you've previously passed, which forces you into additional encounters. Also note that there are two Save Points along the way.

Big Boost

You can easily boost your characters' levels near the beginning of the river. At the first Save Point, go into the sub-menu. Go to "Cmd. Set", select "short" and press the button. You can now place Banon's Health spell in place of the Fight command. This means that he will cast his health spell every turn. Back on the river, select to go up the river at the first intersection and then tape down the button and tape the D-pad in the up position. The raft will then circle the area and your characters will fight and heal automatically. Leave the game running in this fashion over night, and the next day you'll find that your character's level has increased significantly.

Protect Banon

If Banon gets K.O.ed at any time during your trip down the river, you'll be forced to start over from the Returner's Hideout or wherever you last saved on the river. To prevent this from occurring, make good use of Banon's Health skill, which heals the entire party without using MP. Also, conserve Terra's MP to heal Banon if his HP gets too low.

Edgar's NoiseBlaster comes in handy by turning away enemy attacks from Banon and the rest of the party. Make sure you stick Banon in the back row. This will offer him a bit more protection, which is worth it although it cuts down on the power of his attack.

Ultros

Ultros is a very tough Boss due to its strong attacks. In fact, protecting Banon during this battle isn't always possible, because a single Tentacle attack can knock him out.

Have Sabin use Pummel (←, →, ←, and ☺) and have Terra use Fire magic. Both attacks will cause 300+ points of damage each time. If you have the Genji Glove, make sure it's equipped on Edgar. With two swords, even the king of Figaro Castle can cause about 300 points of damage each turn. Leave most of the healing up to Banon's Health skill, but be prepared to use Terra's Cure magic if you encounter trouble.

Separate Quests

After the battle with Ultros, you must choose which character(s) you'll control next. You'll eventually take all three groups through their adventures, so pick your favorite character and enjoy.

EDGAR, TERRA, & BANON'S QUEST (NARSHE)

Checklist

- ☐ Continue down the Lete River until the raft reaches the coast
- ☐ Head northwest to Narshe
- ☐ Use the secret door from earlier to get into the mines
- ☐ Follow the star through the security checkpoint room
- ☐ Find Arvis' house and speak with him

Getting Into Narshe

NOTE: Knowing him, there's probably some secret switch in the rock wall.

Because of Terra's bad reputation in Narshe, you won't be able to stroll through the front gate. Instead, you must use Locke's secret door next to the Training Center to get into the Narshe Mines. Before you go, you may want to use the recovery water inside the Training Center to restore your party's HP and MP.

Security Checkpoint

Since the battle with the Marshal's troops, the people of Narshe have installed a security system to stop unwanted visitors. As you enter the room, you'll see a white star that resembles a Save Point. Watch the path the star takes through the room, which is the only safe route. Follow the star's path exactly to reach the opposite side; if not, you're forced to fight, plus you must start over from the beginning.

LOCKE: Knowing him, there's probably some secret switch in this room.

NOTE

If they go the wrong way, a chain of light surrounds your party. When caught, you can avoid going into battle if you "tag", press  the button, the gold link in the light-chain that surrounds the party. If you manage to touch the gold light, the chain is broken and your party can move on without fighting or starting over.

What's Next?

ARVIS: Send King Edgar to the Yarn.

This quest is complete once you speak to Arvis. You'll either get the chance to choose from any remaining quests, or the story will pick back up with all the characters congregating in Narshe.

Occupied South Figaro

Getting around in South Figaro isn't easy now that the town is under Empire control. Most of the townspeople are more than happy to share information with you, however, the Empire's soldiers block your path at almost every major intersection. You should avoid contact with soldiers in MagiTek armor, because they're just itching for a fight. If Locke gets K.O.ed in battle, he'll get dropped off back at the point where he originally entered town and you may have to start all over again.

The only way to make your way around town is to steal the clothes from either a Merchant or an Officer. While dressed as a Merchant, the townsfolk are happy to provide you with safe passage and information, but soldiers will still be very rude. However, if you dress as an Officer, the soldiers will gladly give you information and passage, but the townsfolk will be very cold toward you.

Merchants look like this.

Officers look like this.

Changing Clothes

To change clothes, you must use Locke's Steal skill in battle against either a Merchant or an Officer. There are three Merchants and two Officers in town.

You can find the Merchants in the Item Shop, Inn, and Pub. You only need to steal the clothes from the Merchants in the Item Shop and the Pub, but that doesn't mean that you can't rob the one in the Inn just for the extra item.

You can find the Officers on the wall above the city and roaming around near the Café. In this case, you only need the clothes from the Officer on the wall, so you can get the soldier blocking your path to the Pub to move.

Getting the Cider

In the large house on the right side of the city, you'll find an old man who wants Cider before he'll talk to you. To get the Cider, you must go into the Pub's basement and steal the Merchant's clothes and Cider. Take the Cider back to the old man, and he'll almost tell you his grandson's password. No matter; you don't need it! Go downstairs and talk to the grandson after you've taken the old man his Cider, and he'll ask you for the password. Choose "Courage" from the list of passwords, and the grandson will open a secret passage that leads to Owzer's house.

The password is...
 "Rose bud"
 "Courage"
 "Failure"

Remove her chains?

What's the mission?

There's a clock key in his pocket...
(Take it.)
(Standing in front of)

To find Owzer's hidden basement, check behind the bookcase in Owzer's room. You may have already been here earlier during your first visit. Inspect the first basement door to find Celes, who's being held captive. Free her and then inspect the sleeping guard to steal the Clock Key. Make sure you equip Celes before moving on.

As you proceed further into the basement, use the Clock Key on the stopped clock to open a secret passage. The secret passage is full of dangerous enemies, plus it's very difficult to navigate. There are a lot of good items, so check the map and don't miss a single one. Also, don't forget to visit the basement's lower level. When you're done, head for the exit and escape from town.

LOCKE'S QUEST CONTINUED (FIGARO AREA CAVE)

Checklist

- ☐ Enter the cave and head for the recovery spring
- ☐ Battle Tunnel Armor

Time to Collect

Reopened the treasure

Did you leave the treasure chests unopened the first time you came through this area? If so, it's time to collect. Most of the chests will now contain much better items than they did earlier. Proof that good things come to those that wait!

Tunnel Armor

LOCKE: Huh?
CELES: Something's coming
outta the wall!

Before this fight, make sure you use the mines' recovery spring to heal Locke and Celes. As you exit the mine, Tunnel Armor attacks.

This is an easy battle if you follow Celes' advice. Each turn, have her use her Runic Blade, which will absorb Tunnel Armor's powerful magic attacks. Locke can then steal from the Boss, and slowly pick away at its defenses. If the party needs to heal, have Locke use Tonics or Potions, but don't stop using Celes' Runic Blade.

What's Next?

After defeating Tunnel Armor, Locke and Celes will exit the mine on their own. At this point, you're prompted to choose your next adventure.

You can make the Merchant reappear by going back to the World Map and then returning to the yard. Don't miss out on the useful Skeen and Shuriken items for Shadow. He can throw these at enemies during battle.

Inside the House

The man inside the house may seem a bit confused, but pay attention to his ramblings. They'll come in handy sooner or later. You can rest in his bed for free if you like.

Saving Doma Castle

Cyan is too strong for the enemy. If you want, you can pick off the enemy soldiers attacking the castle just for the fun of it, but you'll end up using a lot of Tonics or Potions for very little gain.

When attacking the Leader, simply charge Cyan's SwordTech to Level 2, the Retort attack. When the Leader attacks, Cyan will counterattack and defeat the Leader with a single blow.

Getting the Goods

There are treasures in the Imperial Camp. To get those in the Imperial Camp, you must grab them from the chests inside the tents during your chase with Kefka.

SABIN'S QUEST (PHANTOM FOREST)

Checklist

- ☐ Enter Phantom forest east of Doma Castle
- ☐ Find your way through the forest to the Train Station
- ☐ Board the Phantom Train

Navigating the Forest

This side perspective may seem odd at first, but it isn't tough to follow. Just head to the right and look for passages in the background and foreground. It is possible to get turned around if you take the one wrong path, which drops you off near the entrance. Don't worry, though, because there's a recovery spring here, so you can afford to explore.

From the entrance of the Phantom Forest, follow the path right to the end. Go up into the next screen to find the Recovery Spring. Go right to the end and go down into the next screen. Go right and then up into the next screen. Walk right and take the first path up to reach the station.

Friendly Ghosts

Not all spirits are evil. Some may even want to join you, which makes your trek through the train much easier. The first of such spirits are in the caboose. You can also find the spirit of a Merchant if you talk to the right spook.

There are two things you should know about Ghosts. First, their Possess attack will completely eliminate an enemy. Unfortunately, it also eliminates the Ghost, so don't use it unless you don't mind losing your friend. Second, Ghosts take damage from healing items, so healing a Ghost during battle is impossible. However, healing items work normally on Ghosts outside of battles.

"Goudy, folks, I have some great, value-priced items to shop!
(Don't shop)"

Trapped

A spirit will lock you in the fourth car. Defeat the spook and you'll be placed outside, but your situation won't improve. Climb the ladder on the side of the car and make a daring leap to the fifth... er... sixth car. To leave the evil spirits behind, enter the sixth car and throw the yellow switch on the wall. This detaches the other cars from the train. Flipping the yellow switch again will enable you to enter the sixth car.

The Dining Car

If you stop at the middle table of the dining car, you'll get treated to a free meal, which restores your party's HP and MP. This may be just the boost your party needs to reach the engine room alive. By the way, switch the leader of your party and have everyone eat. Check out each party member's reaction.

Ziegfried

If you try to open the treasure chest in the first passenger car, you'll run into a fighter named Ziegfried. Ziegfried talks a lot of smack, but can't live up to the hype. You can win this battle easily, however, Ziegfried gets the last laugh by running off with the treasure.

Stopping the Train

When you reach the engine, inspect the top-left corner of the room to find instructions on how to stop the train. The note tells you to shut off the first and third switches on the wall, and then it says to throw a switch near the engine's smokestack outside. Doing so throws you into battle against the Phantom Train.

Phantom Train

This Boss isn't tough, but it has some powerful attacks. Acid Rain is the worst of them all, because it causes about 150 points of damage to each party member and it causes them to have HP-draining seizures. Have Sabin use either the Aura Bolt or Pummel Blitz, have Shadow toss Shurikens, and make Cyan use the Level 1 SwordTech. Using these three attacks, the Phantom Train won't last long.

ONE-HIT KILL:

Because the Phantom Train is an undead enemy, you can use a Phoenix Down against it and destroy it with one shot.

SABIN'S QUEST CONTINUED (BARREN FALLS)

Checklist

- ☐ Walk to the edge of Barren Falls and bid farewell to Shadow

- ☐ Defeat Rizopas to reach the Veldt
- ☐ Head east-southeast across the Veldt to Mobliz

Shadow Departs

When you reach Barren Falls, Shadow will leave your party. There's a chance he may even leave before the point after a battle. Either way, there's nothing you can do to get him back for now.

Rizopas

After jumping off of Barren Falls, you're forced to fight 10 to 12 Piranhas in succession. After eliminating them, an even more powerful creature, Rizopas, will appear.

This creature lacks a lot of HP, however, it does have an extremely powerful attack called El Nino that causes about 250-300 points of damage to Sabin and Cyan. Use Blitz attacks and the Level 1 SwordTech when possible, but keep both characters' HP high by using Potions or Tonics.

Gau

You first meet Gau when you arrive at the Veldt, but he quickly disappears. As you make your way to Mobliz, you're bound to run into Gau a few times. He'll beg for food, but you don't have anything to offer him. Attack him and he'll run away.

SABIN'S QUEST (MOBLIZ)

Checklist

- ☐ Talk to the townsfolk to learn about Gau and the Diving Helmet
- ☐ Purchase Dried Meat from the Item Shop
- ☐ Explore the Veldt and find Gau

Talk to Everyone

After speaking with everyone in the town, you'll learn two things. First, the wild child, Gau, likes Dried Meat. One villager mentions throwing Dried Meat into a pack of animals once, which caused Gau to appear. Second, you'll hear of the Serpent Trench, which can take you to a town known as Nikeah. Unfortunately, you need an underwater breathing device that was recently stolen from Mobliz.

throw some "Dried Meat" in a herd of hungry animals, and some kid emerged and grabbed it!

out hunting, I noticed a kid running with a herd of beasts! He probably knows where he is!

Get Gau

Purchase some Dried Meat from the Item Shop in Mobliz, and then return to the Veldt. After a battle, you'll eventually meet up with Gau. Select the Dried Meat from your item inventory and use it on Gau. The hungry wild child will gobble down the food and join your party in appreciation of the kind act.

Gau has a skill that enables him to learn the attacks of creatures found in the Veldt. This is the only area in the world where Gau can learn these attacks, and once he learns them, they can be used at any time during battle anywhere in the world.

Teaching Gau a new attack is simple, but time consuming. Wander the Veldt until you get into a battle. Have Gau "Leap" into an enemy(ies) you want him to learn from. The battle will end, and Gau will no longer be in your party. Continue fighting on the Veldt, and Gau will eventually reappear with a new "Rage" skill.

Gau learns skills from the enemies he disappears with, and from any enemies in the battle in which he reappears. You can use a skill by selecting Gau's Rage skill in battle, and then choose one of the monsters listed. Once Gau goes into Rage mode, you lose complete control of him. He'll continue to use the selected beast's attacks until the battle ends.

Avoid the Inn

The Inn at Mobliz isn't cheap. Instead of wasting 100 GP to rest there, go to the Relic Shop at the back of the town. There's a bed in the back that you can sleep in for free.

The Wounded Soldier

In one of the houses at Mobliz, you'll find a wounded soldier who speaks of his true love back at his hometown. You can help him out by taking the letter from the desk, and paying to have it mailed at the house with the carrier pigeons.

Now I can't even move.
I'll never see Sabin again.

Enemies

Items

Checklist

- ☐ With Gau, head southwest from Mobliz to find Mt. Crescent Cave
- ☐ Explore the area to find the Diving Helmet
- ☐ Hop into the Serpent Trench and steer your way through the murky water
- ☐ Arrive at the town of Nikeah

Searching for Treasure

As you walk around the cave, Gau will automatically react whenever you get near a treasure or event. You must be careful though. If you go to the top-left corner of the cave, Gau will pull a practical joke that causes Sabin to lose 500 GP. Check the map and screenshots for assistance in locating items.

Navigating the Serpent Trench

The Serpent Trench is full of monsters, so be prepared to fight. Watch out for Anguiforms. Their Aqua Rake attack can easily knock out injured characters. Make sure you heal your party members in any cave you find.

As you travel, always take the right path when given a choice. There are a couple of caves to the right that have some useful items. Caves also provide the only opportunity for you to heal your characters in-between battles.

There isn't much to do in this town except shop. You should definitely purchase armor because there are a lot of new items to find. Don't neglect to buy for people who aren't your party yet. They'll need new equipment soon.

Kefka's Charge

You can split up your party in one of two ways: balance or power. With a balanced party, you have a main group of three characters and two guard groups with two characters apiece. A power group focuses on a main group of four, and two guard groups with the remaining characters.

Either way, place your guard groups at the end of the trails so that the enemy can't get past without fighting. Send the main group out to plow through the onslaught and onto Kefka.

You don't need to defeat all of Kefka's army, so a power group can easily blast through by fighting a minimal number of battles. Also, keep in mind that you can heal between battles. Don't send a weak party against Kefka or the last of Kefka's guards.

Kefka

Kefka isn't very tough, but he does use some powerful magic. Ideally, you'll have Celes in your party for this battle. Her Runic blade can absorb Kefka's magic, which makes him much less threatening. Use powerful attacks like magic, SwordTechs, Blitz attacks, and Tools to really hurt Kefka. It helps a lot to have Cyan at Level 15. His Level 4 SwordTech, QuadraSlam, causes close to 1000 points of damage.

Exploring Narshe

Once again, you'll find a lot of new items in the shops around town. Make sure you buy only what you can afford. The Inn is very expensive, however, you can cheat the Innkeeper out of his money by sleeping in the back room at the Weapon Shop. Also, there's always the recovery water in the training hall (Classroom). Don't miss out on all the free items. There's one locked chest you can't yet open, so don't worry about it right now.

Explore the castle and take a nap in the castle's chambers. Also, have Edgar go shopping. If he is leading the party at a shop, you'll receive a 50% discount on anything you purchase. You may want to stock up a bit before heading for Kohlingen.

Visiting Kohlingen

Your main purpose in this town is to find out if anyone witnessed the flying creature. Sure enough, you'll find that there are several signs of the creature's visit. One witness will point you south toward the town of Jidoor.

Also, you'll learn more about Locke if you visit two of the houses. Locke's old flame, Rachel, lived in this town and visiting her home sparks some painful memories for Locke.

Hidden Chest

There's a hidden chest in the home on the northeast corner of town. To get it, you must enter through the back door and then search behind the suit of armor. You'll find a Green Beret inside.

Dreamer's House

Several people in town mention a house to the north. If you head that way, you'll discover a man who dreams of one day owning a coliseum. You can also find a Relic, the Hero Ring, hidden in a pot.

The Search Continues

There's some good shopping in Jidoor, but that seems to be about it at the moment. The Auction House may seem intriguing, but there's nothing going on there at this point in the game. You'll also hear talk of an Opera House to the south, but for the moment you don't need to go there unless you can't wait to check it out.

By talking to Jidoor's citizens, you learn that the creature was seen flying north toward the town of Zozo. Although you don't learn much about Zozo, you may get the feeling it isn't a very friendly place. Stock up on weapons, armor, and healing items because you'll need them in Zozo. You may want to consider renting ■ Chocobo for the long journey north to conserve your party's energy.

ZOZO

Checklist

- ☐ Go to the Inn and inspect the clock
- ☐ Talk to everyone in town to get the correct time
- ☐ Set the Inn's clock to the proper time
- ☐ Get Edgar's Chainsaw
- ☐ Climb the center tower
- ☐ Battle Dadalluma
- ☐ Find Terra at the top of the tower
- ☐ Rejoin your comrades and split into two parties.

Unwelcome Visitors

Zozo is anything but a friendly town, but what do you expect with the constant downpour and dark streets. Lying seems to be the only acceptable form of communication, and thugs fill the streets.

Expect to get attacked regularly while walking around town. Make sure you've saved your game before entering the town, and consider Zozo to be extremely hostile.

Hades Gigas: Use Edgar's NoiseBlaster to confuse this enemy. This gives Locke an opportunity to steal an Atlas Armlet Relic from the enemy. It also causes the Hades Gigas to waste its MP by casting Magnitude 8 on itself, which saves your party a lot of damage.

As a general rule you can steal a lot of good items from the enemies in Zozo, but they may also try to steal from your party as well.

The Broken Clock

There's a stopped clock on the wall inside the Inn. After inspecting it, you're asked to set the correct time. However, to get the correct time, you must decipher the vague clues given to you by the locals, which are all lies, of course.

First, visit the "Weapon Shop" and talk to the person there. Since you know he's lying, the clock is pointing at 10 minutes after. Next, go to the middle tower on the south side of town. The line of liars will help you decipher that the hour isn't 2, 12, 10, 4, or 8. Continue talking to some of the townsfolk to learn that the seconds is neither 30 nor 20. You'll also learn that the seconds cannot be divided by 20.

So what's the answer? It's currently 6:10:50 in Zozo. Set the time on the "Inn's" clock to open a secret passage that leads to a chest containing a Chain Saw. This is a powerful new tool for Edgar that's sure to come in handy.

Finding Terra

It should quickly become apparent that you'll need to climb the large tower in the center of town to find Terra. Climbing the tower isn't easy, because you'll encounter a lot of enemies and dead ends before reaching the top.

When you reach a spot where you can't seem to go any farther, look around for an open window on the side of the building. You can leap out an open window to an adjacent tower, which you must do more than once. To get out of the tower, you must use the crane found on the main tower's stairs.

Dadaluma

At the top of the tower, you'll face the powerful warrior, Dadaluma. This Boss has powerful physical attacks and uses a variety of support magic. Use your most powerful attacks, especially Sabin's Blitz skills, Edgar's Chain Saw, Cyan's SwordTech, and Celes' Magic if they're in your party.

As you deplete Dadaluma's HP, it will begin to heal itself with Potions and two Iron Fists will join the battle. If you defeat the Iron Fists, they are quickly replaced, so you should continue to focus your attacks on Dadaluma.

You can make the Iron Fists fight for you instead of against you by using Edgar's NoiseBlaster to confuse them. The Iron Fists are automatically defeated after you defeat Dadaluma.

What's Magicite?

You're about to receive your first four Magicite crystals. Magicite is the remains of a defeated Esper. Each character can equip one Magicite crystal in the Skills menu. By equipping Magicite, a character can assume the lost Esper's powers. Over time, the character will learn new spells from the Esper's Magicite, and will no longer need to have the Magicite equipped to use the spells. This is accomplished with Magic Points won in battle. Also, while a character has an Esper equipped, he/she can summon the Esper into battle. This is very handy, because each Esper has a different attack and some are more powerful than others.

As your characters learn from Espers, they can trade Magicite crystals so that everyone can have the same list of spells as everyone else. Note, however, that this takes a lot of time and effort. Also, some Espers have bonuses connected to them that characters receive when leveling up. For example, whenever a character equipped with Ramuh levels up, that character's Stamina increases by one point. Use these bonuses to help round out your characters' vital statistics.

The Big Performance

Before going onstage as Celes, you should study her part by reading the book on the table. You must memorize her lines, because you'll periodically be asked to recite a line at the proper moment. If you mess up, the opera will be ruined and you'll be forced to start over again. The following are the lines you must remember:

- Oh my hero...
- I'm the darkness...
- Must I...

After the last line, Draco will appear and request that Celes dance with him. Follow his lead. You don't have to mimic his movements, but you must quickly get in front of him each time he stops and speak to him.

After completing the dance, quickly grab the bouquet and walk up the stairs to the balcony where the rest of the opera will play itself out. Remember that if you mess up the dance, or you don't get up the stairs fast enough, the opera will stop and you'll be forced to start over from the beginning.

Stop Ultros

After Locke reads Ultros' letter, run back to the Impresario and tell him what's going on. Run to the right side of the balcony and speak with the man there. He'll tell you to throw the switch on the right side of the wall. After doing so, race back to the left side of the balcony and head through the door to the rafters.

To cross the rafters, you must get past a bunch of rats. You can dodge the rats if you cross the beams at the right time, but running into a rat initiates a battle. Quickly eliminate any Vermin, and then destroy any remaining Sewer Rats during a battle. If you destroy the Sewer Rats first, the Vermin will call in reinforcements. Remember that you only have five minutes, so you may want to run from battle or use Smoke Bombs to escape if time is short.

Ultros

The royal octopus, Ultros, has improved a lot since your last meeting. It now has magic attacks that can be difficult to overcome. Make sure you have a supply of Green Cherries and Remedies before the fight begins. You may also want to equip your characters with Relics that prevent Imp and Confused statuses. This will put a dent in Ultros' battle plan.

Ultros will cast two negative status effects on your party, Imp and Confuse. While "imped," your characters can still attack, so this effect isn't a major deal. However, when confused, your characters can turn on each other in the worst of ways. Quickly strike a confused character to snap him/her out of it. Also, make sure you use your new magic abilities and summon your Espers into battle. The Espers will make this battle a lot quicker.

Setzer's Airship

After gaining control of Setzer's Airship, you'll automatically head for your next destination. Once there, you should jump back onboard the ship and take advantage of its features.

There are other men onboard the Airship. One will heal your party, another will sell you items, and the last will enable you to un-equip characters that aren't in your current party so that you can redistribute equipment.

Unfriendly Inn

Upon arrival in Vector, you may be in serious need of rest. The Inn offers ■ "free" stay, but there's a hidden cost. In the middle of the night, ■ thief will steal 1000 GP from your party. Fortunately, you can avoid this.

Check out the smallest house in town. When asked about your allegiance, respond that you aren't loyal to the Empire, which prompts a fight with two Guards. After defeating them, the house's owner will gladly restore your party's HP and MP for free.

The Imperial Palace

The entrance to the Imperial Palace is heavily guarded. If ■ soldier spots your party, you'll be forced into battle. Even if you do get past the soldiers, you'll find the Guardian, a large, seemingly invincible machine protecting the entrance. Still, this is ■ great place to build levels and earn GP if your characters need a boost.

Returner Sympathizer

The Returner Sympathizer is hiding behind some crates near the entrance to the Magitek Factory. Speak with him, and then follow his orders. Climb onto the box and then sneak past the guards.

MAGITEK FACTORY

Checklist

- ☐ Find Kefka and follow the Espers
- ☐ Save your game and battle Ifrit and Shiva
- ☐ Go to the Magitek Research Facility

TO
FACILITY

Navigating the Factory

This area can be a bit confusing at first. To get to some areas, you must crawl through pipes, ride lifts, and hop onto conveyor belts. Use the maps to help guide you, and try and get all of the chests.

Your ultimate goal is to find Kefka. You'll find his location marked on the maps. You must ride a conveyor belt in the second area to find him. Once he leaves, follow the Espers to continue your quest.

Ifrit and Shiva

When you find the two Espers, don't immediately inspect them. Instead, enter the left door and save your game. You may want to use a Tent if you've been in a lot of fights.

When you're ready for battle, inspect Ifrit and the battle will begin. Use Ice magic on Ifrit and Fire magic on Shiva. Most physical attacks won't cause much damage, unless you've equipped your characters with the Flame Sabre and Blizzard found in the factory. Avoid using the Flame Sabre against Ifrit, or the Blizzard against Shiva or you'll heal them.

As the fight goes on, the two Espers will sense Ramuh's presence and will turn themselves into Magicite. Continue by going through the door Shiva was blocking.

MAGITEK RESEARCH FACILITY

Checklist

- ☐ Find and defeat 024
- ☐ Throw the switch in the Esper containment chamber
- ☐ Follow Cid out of the M.R.F.
- ☐ Save your game and then talk to Cid
- ☐ Fight your way out of the M.R.F.
- ☐ Run into town until you meet Setzer
- ☐ Destroy Kefka's Cranes to release the Airship

024

This Boss has a lot of powerful magic attacks and a shifting weakness. At the start of the battle, use everything you've got against 024. Several turns later, 024 will use Wall Change to shift its strengths and weaknesses. Use special attacks like Cyan's Dispatch, Sabin's Pummel, and Edgar's Chain Saw.

You can use Scan magic to take a peak at 024's new weakness, and take advantage of it if you have the right kind of magic. If you keep your HP up, this shouldn't be a tough fight.

Escape by Rail

Your only way out of the Magitek Research Facility is by rail. As you travel, Mag Roaders will periodically attack. Eliminate them quickly, and make sure you keep your party's HP up because you won't get a chance to heal between battles. As you near the end, Number 128 will challenge you.

Number 128

This battle can be challenging after fighting so many Mag Roaders. If any party member's HP is low, immediately use Cure magic or Potions for a boost.

Number 128 is comprised of three parts. The center body is the main target, and it's the hardest part to eliminate. You can destroy Number 128's arms, but they'll quickly regenerate. Still, it's worthwhile to destroy its arms because it reduces the amount of damage the Boss can cause to your party each turn.

Use special attacks that target all parts of the Boss, such as Sabin's Fire Dance. Powerful magic, for example Bolt, works especially well. If Cyan is in your party, use his Retort SwordTech to inflict extra damage.

Cranes

Kefka's Cranes are deceptively tough. Whatever you do, avoid casting a Bolt spell on the left crane or a Fire spell on the right crane. Doing so only powers them up. When a Crane powers up to level three, it casts a powerful spell on your entire party. The Cranes also use other types of powerful magic, and will occasionally power up each other.

Have one or two characters act as medics by casting Cure or Cure 2 on the party. Fortunately, you now have Setzer's aid. Use his Slot command to attack the enemy. His most common combination, Three Diamonds, attacks the enemies with the Flash attack. This attack causes around 400 points of damage to each Crane. You can also cast Fire on the left crane and Bolt on the right crane. The Level 2 Bolt and Fire spells can cause as much as 1000 points of damage.

ESPER WORLD

Checklist

- ☐ Return to Zozo with the Espers (automatic)
- ☐ As Maduin, find Madonna and take her back to the Elder's home
- ☐ Speak with Madonna
- ☐ Head past the point where Maduin found Madonna, and find Madonna again
- ☐ Speak with the Elder
- ☐ Attempt to leave the Elder's home and speak with the Espers
- ☐ Follow Madonna toward the gate and speak with her
- ☐ Fly the Airship northeast to Narshe

Switching Up

Now that everyone is back together, you can change your party around if you like. To change your party, simply speak with any one of your characters inside the ship. Remember to take the time to equip Setzer and Terra properly.

Before Heading to Narshe

There are a few things that you can do now that you have an airship at your disposal. First, you should revisit the town of Tzen. In the northeast corner of town, there's a thief hiding in the woods. Talk to him, and you can purchase a Magicite crystal, Sraphim, that he stole from the Magitek Research Facility after your assault. The price is a little steep (3000 GP), but well worth it. If you want, you can hold off until later in the game and get the same piece of Magicite for 30 GP, but that opportunity is a long way off.

You can return to Mobliz and assist the wounded soldier a second time by sending a letter to his love in Maranda.

The auction house in Jidoor is open for business. Stop by and check out some of the auctions. You can actually win a couple of Espers at the auction[md]if you're willing to pay the price. Come back here regularly.

Figaro Castle now has a new Tool for sale, the Drill. It isn't cheap, but you should definitely pick one up. Just make sure that Edgar is leading your party so you can get the Drill for half price.

Lone Wolf, the Pickpocket

Remember that chest you couldn't open earlier? Return to the treasure house and check on it. Upon doing so, you'll find Lone Wolf, the guy who was locked up in Figaro Castle prison, busy tinkering with the locked chest. He'll run away with the treasure, but all is not lost.

Chase the thief through Narshe toward the mines. Inside the mines, take the first right and follow the path until you catch up with Lone Wolf. Now you must make a choice. You can either save the treasure, ■ Gold Hairpin, or you can save Mog. Gold Hairpins are very rare, but Mog will join your party if you save him. The choice is yours, but who could stomach letting a little fuzzy guy like Mog fall off ■ cliff?

If you choose Mog, you can find another Gold Hairpin later in the game. If you take the item, you'll find Mog later in the game as well. However, you'll benefit more from having Mog now than you will the Gold Hairpin.

Checklist

- ☐ Make your way through the cave to the sealed Esper Gate

Basement 2

This area has a wooden path that constantly switches between two patterns. Before going anywhere, sit for a moment and compare the two paths. You must cross one path and be prepared to hop to the next when the paths switch. If you're not ready to hop onto the next path, your party will fall into the lava below, which causes some damage and throws them back to the left shore. This sounds and looks more complicated than it actually is.

Basement 3

Now you must deal with a bunch of switches and alternating landscape. There's a lot of treasure in this area; however, the problem is figuring out how to get to it all. Check the map for help in deciphering which switch leads to each treasure.

You must be careful, though, because the monsters in this area are powerful. There's also a hidden Save Point just in case you need to save and rest.

Stranded

As the party flies off, several Espers cause the Airship to crash. Your next stop should be Vector, but it's a long walk from the crash site. Search the woods northwest of the crash site to find ■ Chocobo Stable if you don't feel like fighting your way to Vector.

Vector in Flames

What's this? The town is full of Returners, nearly everything is on fire, and there are no Imperials anywhere. Although the town is in chaos, you can still shop and the woman who healed you before is still willing to lend you a helping hand. When you're finished, head for the Imperial Palace.

The Banquet

Gestahl asks you to join him for a banquet, and to help him make his soldiers understand. You have four minutes to talk to every soldier you can find. Some soldiers are easily swayed, while others will challenge you to battles.

Avoid visiting the jail cell, because you'll run into Kefka and lose approximately twenty seconds. It's best to keep moving, and end every battle as quickly as possible. The total number of soldiers you sway will be added to your score at the end of the banquet.

At the end of four minutes, you'll get taken to the banquet room and the feast will begin. During the banquet, Gestahl will ask you many questions. Follow the answers listed below to receive the highest score possible. Also note that when you take a break, you should talk to Gestahl's soldiers, who challenge you to a battle. Once the battle ends, return to the banquet room to continue the discussion.

Also, don't forget about South Figaro and Doma Castle. You can't go there right now, but later you can get items from both places that you might have earlier missed.

What's Going On?

After exploring the town, you'll quickly discover the citizens have a secret. A secret they're not about to divulge to outsiders like Terra, Locke, and Shadow. When you've finished exploring, find Strago to learn a bit more about this mysterious town. Then go to the Inn, where you'll find that the innkeeper has lowered his price from 1500 GP to a measly 1 GP. I guess at 1500 a night for visitors, this guy can afford such a ridiculously low price once in a while!

Fire!

In the middle of the night, you'll awake to the sounds of a panicked Strago. As you follow him into the town, you'll discover that the little boy who likes to play with fire may have had a bit too much success with his spell. The party must rush inside to rescue Relm.

You'll see lots of small flames dancing on the floors inside the building. If you get too close to a flame, you'll fight Balloons. If this occurs, make sure you equip Ice weapons (if you have them), such as the Ice Rod, which Strago wields well. You should also equip Shiva, the Ice Esper, and be prepared to use lots of Ice magic. Flames are very susceptible to Ice attacks. By the way, don't forget that Strago is new to your party and could use some refitting, such as Relics and an Esper.

Flame Eater

When you reach the back of the house, you'll face Flame Eater. This is a tough Boss because of its strong Fire attacks. Keep up each party member's HP, and unload on the Boss with Ice magic. Summon Shiva to battle (if she's equipped), and she'll put the hurt on Flame Eater.

Strago's skill is called Lore, a type of magic learned from enemies in battle. He joins you with a Lore spell known as Aqua Rake, which just happens to work really well against Flame Eater. Use this attack any time the Boss calls for Balloon reinforcements.

Also, watch for Flame Eater to cast Reflect on itself. When this occurs, stop casting magic on the Boss; if not, the magic will get reflected back at your party. You can counter this by casting Reflect on your own party, and then bouncing Ice spells off your characters and onto the Boss.

ESPERS' GATHERING PLACE

Checklist

- ☐ Enter the cave and find your way to the "Statues"
- ☐ Battle Ultros (Boss)
- ☐ Meet the Espers
- ☐ Board the Airship

Ultros

Once again, you must battle the octopus king. This battle is actually easier than the battle at the Opera House. Use Fire 2 or Fire if that's all you have. This should quickly deplete Ultros' health.

Near the end of the battle, Relm will appear. Use her Sketch skill to draw a picture of Ultros, which attacks the angry octopus. When she uses this ability successfully, which may take a while, the battle automatically ends.

The Three Holes

There are three holes in the floor just past the "Statues." The hole closest to the stairs leads to the Espers, while the other two holes lead to valuable treasures. You should get the treasures before going to the Espers.

Before You Head Off to the Floating Continent...

When all is said and done, you'll end up in the Airship with the option to lift off or to find the Floating Continent. Before rushing off, you should collect your rewards from the banquet. There may be treasure at Doma Castle and South Figaro if you missed it earlier. Also, revisit the auction house in Jidoor and attempt to get the Zone Seek and Golem Espers, if you haven't already.

FLOATING CONTINENT

Checklist

- ☐ Go to the Airship's deck and choose to "Find the Floating Continent"
- ☐ Battle the Imperial airforce until Ultros arrives
- ☐ Defeat Ultros and Chupon
- ☐ Destroy the Air Force
- ☐ Land on the Floating Continent and save your game
- ☐ Find your way across the landscape to Atma Weapon
- ☐ Defeat Atma Weapon and then confront Kefka and Gestahl
- ☐ Run to the edge of the continent and wait for Shadow
- ☐ If time is under five seconds, proceed without Shadow

Air Assault

As the party heads for the Floating Continent, they are attacked by the entire Imperial Air Force. You must fight a seemingly never-ending assault of Sky Armors and Spit Fires until Ultros shows up. The battles aren't difficult, but you'll want to heal between them to save time in battle.

Also, if you switched around your party before the battles, you'll need to equip everyone who's new after the first battle.

Eventually, one of your characters will notice something strange headed your way. Check the back of the ship to find Ultros. Approach Ultros to initiate a battle.

Ultros & Chupon

Ultros still isn't very tough, but the crafty octopus has brought along a friend, Chupon. After landing a few good hits against Ultros, Chupon will join the battle. Focus your attacks on Chupon or use attacks that hit both enemies. Chupon uses strong magic, so prepare to heal everyone. Throw a couple of powerful Level 2 spells at Chupon as well. The battle ends when Chupon blows your party off the Airship.

Air Force

As your party falls through the sky, they're attacked by Air Force, the ultimate Imperial flying machine. This Boss has three parts: the main body, a Laser Gun, and a Missile Launcher. You can target each part of this Boss, and you can destroy the Laser Gun and Missile Launcher separately from the main body. However, doing so will only cause the Boss to launch a Speck, which can absorb any magic cast during the battle no matter who it's targeted toward. Specks aren't tough enemies, and you can easily eliminate them if Air Force launches one. Just do it quickly, because you must rely upon Potions and Tonics for healing while the Speck is present.

Cast Level 2 spells at all parts of Air Force. This causes damage to the main body and to its other parts. After eliminating the parts, quickly eliminate any Specks the Boss launches by using physical attacks. You can then finish off the Boss with powerful Bolt and Fire spells. Don't worry about your MP; you'll have a chance to rest as soon as you reach the Floating Continent.

Arriving at the Floating Continent

When you reach the Floating Continent, you should immediately rest to restore your party from the previous battles. Also, save your game now while you can.

Near the Save Point, you'll spot a man on the ground. After talking to the man, you discover that it's Shadow. He decides to join your group and give you a little extra firepower.

Shifting Landscape

A lot of the paths in this area won't open up until your party is right on top of them. Check the map for help in finding these hidden paths. Also, you need to use "teleporters" to get around. You'll also find these locations on the maps.

Gigantos

In one treasure chest you'll encounter a monster-in-a-box, however, this is no ordinary monster. Gigantos is perhaps the most powerful creature you've fought thus far. It has rapid, powerful attacks that can wipe out a party in just a few turns. What can you do?

This is by far my favorite strategy, but it isn't the only one as it relies on Cyan's presence. Begin the battle by casting Vanish on your party members, especially Cyan. While your characters are protected by Vanish, Gigantos can't hurt them because it doesn't use magic. Have Cyan charge his SwordTech to Level 4, Quadra Slam. Cyan will attack the giant four times, but the Vanish spell won't be broken. This way, Cyan can stay under cover the entire fight without becoming vulnerable to Gigantos' attacks and can single-handedly eliminate the enemy. If you don't have Cyan, you can use a similar strategy, or have one character attack while another continues to use Vanish on him/her.

Back to the Ship

If things are just too hot for your party, or you're running out of supplies, you can escape this area. Just before Atma Weapon, you'll see the Airship floating below the island. You can choose to leap onto the Airship if you like, but keep in mind that you must return later and start back at the beginning. Still, this isn't a bad idea if this area is just too tough for you at this point.

Atma Weapon

Atma Weapon uses extremely powerful magic to wear down your party, and in this case you can't reflect it back at the Boss. Instead, you must devote a couple of characters to healing your party with Cure 2, while the other party members attack. There's a lot of variety to the magic Atma Weapon uses, but you can count on most of its spells causing somewhere between 200-600 points of damage.

On each turn, have your two healers cast Cure 2 on the entire party whether or not they need it. This will quickly drain their MP, so it helps if they have the Osmose spell, which takes MP from the Boss and gives it to the spellcaster.

This also drains Atma Weapon's MP, which severely limits its attacks. But with 5000 MP, it takes a long time to completely drain it. Just keep your two powerhouse characters focused on attacking with their special skills each turn, and you'll be surprised at how quickly Atma Weapon falls.

Run for Your Life

There isn't a lot of ground to cover between the statues and the Airship, but you don't have much time. Quickly equip Celes, and run along the path to the Airship. You'll face a lot of enemies along the way, so use physical attacks, especially special skills like Cabin's or Cyan's.

As you go down the stairs near the end, make sure that you go around the long way! At the very edge, you'll have the option of jumping to the Airship or waiting for Shadow. Wait! If you leave Shadow behind, you'll never see him again. Only go on without him if there's less than five seconds and he's still not there, or you can reload your game prior to Atma Weapon and try to get to the Airship faster next time.

CASTAWAYS

Checklist

- ☐ Go to the beach and catch fish for Cid
- ☐ Get Cid's raft and leave the island
- ☐ Once on shore, go west to Albrook

Cid's Peril

Cid is in bad shape and if Celes doesn't help him quickly, he'll surely die. The only way you can nurse Cid back to health is by eating a certain type of fish found at the beach. The fish in question is a "yummy" fish that swims really fast. Any other type of fish won't do, and will worsen Cid's condition.

To fish, run Celes to the beach and go as far into the water as possible. When the super fast fish swims by, press the button to catch it. Make sure you grab the correct fish by checking your item inventory under "Rare" items. If it doesn't describe the fish as "yummy," you didn't get the right one. You can also keep him alive by feeding him the medium speed fish, but this won't keep him alive for long.

If you go to the beach and there aren't any "yummy" fish, you can go back and speak to Cid. This will reset the fish in the water, however, Cid's condition will worsen a bit each time you do so. Still, this is better than accidentally feeding him a rotten fish.

If you save Cid, he'll tell you about the raft and send you on your way to find your friends. If Cid dies, Celes will eventually find a note from Cid telling her about the raft and instructing her to use it.

Talk to the Locals

First, you need some information. Talk to everyone in town to learn a lot about the state of the world. Kefka's located in a large tower north of Albrook, and exacts vengeance on anyone who opposes him with something called the "Light of Judgement."

You'll also hear about some legendary monsters that have been unleashed on the world. The most notable comment is about something called "Crusader" and the eight dragons that guard it.

Also, there's a painter who sold a portrait of Emperor Gestahl to a man named Owzer in Jidoor. Lastly, and most importantly, you'll learn that someone like Celes was here recently looking for friends. Who can it be? A woman tells you that he headed north to Tzen, so Tzen is your next destination.

Collapsing House

You only have six minutes to get in and out before the house collapses. Before you go, make sure Celes is equipped with a relic that protects against the Stone status. Ribbon is the best choice, but a Jewel Ring also works. If you don't, Celes might get turned to stone, which would mean game over!

Once inside, collect the treasures, but don't waste any time. During battles, use Level 2 spells or run from battle, because you don't have time to fight every monster. There are two chests full of monsters. Try to avoid opening them. When you find the child, get out fast.

Sraphim Esper

Did you get the Sraphim Esper earlier? If not, go to the right side of town and look for any movement in the woods. Talk to the hidden thief, and he'll sell you the Sraphim Esper for 10 GP. That's quite a discount from his earlier asking price of 3000 GP.

- ☐ Receive the Fenrir Esper
- ☐ Leave Terra behind and follow the Serpent Trench to Nikeah

Phunbaba

Terra cannot defeat Phunbaba on her own. Her defeat is inevitable, so don't think that you're doing something wrong. If you haven't used Sabin and Celes much yet, you might have a tough time with this fight.

In fact, you may want to spend some time fighting enemies outside the village to boost Sabin and Celes' levels, and to teach them some basic spells like Cure 2 and Life.

You need to keep the party's HP over 1,000 while Sabin uses Blitz techniques to chase Phunbaba away. During the battle, Celes can use her Runic skill to absorb Phunbaba's powerful magical attacks. If you do so, Sabin will need the Cure 2 ability. Otherwise, Celes will need to act as a medic when Phunbaba uses one of its powerful physical attacks.

It's best that both Celes and Sabin have the ability to cast Cure 2.

On Your Way Out

You'll automatically get the Fenrir Esper as you leave Terra. However, Celes and Sabin are bound to need rest after the battle. Go to the Relic Shop at the back of town, and use the bed there.

No Need to Walk

There's a hidden Chocobo Stable in the forest south of Mobliz. For 100 GP, you can ride in comfort to the town of Nikeah instead of battling enemies every few feet. Nikeah is at the end of the Serpent Trench, and it's a very long walk. The choice is yours.

Tentacle

There are four Tentacles, and only three people in your party. This spells trouble. To make matters worse, the Tentacles can grab your party members and hold them captive while draining their HP.

Edgar doesn't have any Espers, so he won't know any magic unless you had him in your party earlier in the game and he's already learned some. Therefore, count on using Sabin and Celes to heal Edgar. Fortunately, he's well equipped, so he can cause lots of damage.

Start the battle by having Sabin use the Fire Dance. This will heal one of the Tentacles, but the rest will take damage. Then have Edgar use the Drill on one of the three enemies that wasn't healed by the Fire Dance. Finally, have Celes follow Edgar's lead. You can Scan each Tentacle and check its weaknesses if you want, and then blast it with magic. Using this attack pattern takes out the three Tentacles, followed by the one healed by the Fire Dance.

If a Tentacle grabs a party member, have another character attack the Tentacle holding your party member. This should get the enemy to drop whoever it's holding.

Stupid Thieves

Check the treasure room after the thieves leave. Sure enough, they opened every chest, but they failed to check the statue in the middle of the room. Locke would be so proud of you right now!

Locke's Quest

You may remember this is where Locke's true love sleeps. Visit her and speak with the man watching over her. He'll mention that Locke has gone on a quest to find the ultimate treasure. Hmm... Wonder what that is?

Find the treasure, and you'll find Locke!

DARILL'S TOMB

Checklist

- ☐ Go down to Basement 3 and throw the door switch
- ☐ Inspect the tombstone on the right side of Basement 2
- ☐ Go through the door and throw the switch to flood the tomb
- ☐ Hop on the turtle in Basement 2 and throw the switch where you're dropped off
- ☐ Ride the nearby turtle and then save and rest
- ☐ Inspect the memorial and battle Dullahan
- ☐ Keep talking to Setzer and go get your new Airship

The Blank Tombstone

There's a blank tombstone in the tomb. Upon inspecting it, you're asked if you'd like to write something. Don't do it just yet. First, find a group of four tombstones. Read them all, and then return to the blank one. Write down the messages in the following order:

THEW ORLD ISSQ UARE

You'll then discover how to find the rare Experience Egg (Exp. Egg). It's located in Basement 3 through a secret passage. You need this Relic! It doubles the amount of experience a character receives in battle.

Presenter

Just before the end of this area, you'll find a monster-in-a-box named Presenter. This isn't a tough battle. For a one-hit kill, immediately cast Break on the enemy and watch with glee. You receive a Dragon Claw for winning the fight.

Dullahan

Once again, you're faced with an enemy that uses a nonstop assault of powerful magic. However, Celes' Runic skill can absorb just about any spell the Boss throws at you. Of course, that doesn't mean the Boss is powerless just because Celes is in your party.

Aside from using Celes' Runic skill, you must be able to heal your party. Potions won't do the trick, so you must use Cure 2 instead. However, avoid casting Cure when Celes is waiting to catch a spell with her Rune Blade, or you'll end up transferring MP. If this occurs, have another character follow up with a second Cure 2.

Use Edgar's Drill, Sabin's best Blitz, and have Setzer do whatever he can to help. You may also want to use the new Debilitator you picked up at Figaro Castle so you can give the Boss an elemental weakness and use spells to put it away.

A Strange Occurrence

When you visit Lola, you'll discover that her lover has been sending her lots of flowers and letters. But wait—Mobliz was destroyed and her lover passed away. Check the letters and you'll soon determine who the author is. Agree to Lola's request and take the letter outside and inspect the pigeon on the ground. Carefully watch the map to see where the pigeon goes. This is your next destination.

Rust-Rid

After inspecting the pigeon, it will fly past the Pub. This is a hint as to where you must go. If you remember, there's a rusted door on the top floor. Looks like you need a bottle of Rust-Rid.

Go behind the Pub and talk to the Merchant. He'll sell you a bottle of Rust-Rid for a measly 1000 GP. It's no bargain, but you don't have a choice. Climb the stairs to the rusted door and, presto, you're in!

Checklist

- ☐ Head through the cave and find Cyan's room
- ☐ Read the letter on the desk
- ☐ Go out the right door and find Cyan
- ☐ Return to the Airship and head for the Veldt
- (Optional)
- ☐ Battle the Storm Dragon
- ☐ Return to Maranda with Cyan and visit Lola

Storm Dragon

There's a switch set in the ground near the Save Point. Stepping on the switch opens the chest above, which contains the Storm Dragon. This is one of the eight dragons you've been hearing so much about. You don't have to fight it right now; you can return later when your party is powered up more. Whatever you do, make sure you save your game and use a Tent before challenging Storm Dragon.

There's really only one safe way to fight the Storm Dragon. Have three of your characters act as healers, while the fourth character attacks the Storm Dragon with Bolt 2. On each turn, have your healers cast Cure 2 on the entire party. This should keep their HP high enough that the Storm Dragon can't easily eliminate them. When their MP starts to get low (around 100), have each one take a turn using the Osmose magic to draw MP from Storm Dragon.

Make sure at least two characters are still healing the party, but it's even better to have your attacker take a break and become a healer while everyone refills. The Storm Dragon doesn't have an unlimited amount of MP, so when it runs out you must attack it normally. However, this should be manageable because it can no longer attack the entire party with a spell each turn.

The Locked Chest

After Cyan joins your party, return to the cliff where you found him. There you'll see a shiny blue spot on the edge. Inspect the spot to find the key to Cyan's treasure chest. Open the chest to find Cyan's "Machinery Manual" and "Book of Secrets." The two books do not serve a useful purpose in the game. They are only rare items, and aren't used.

Revisiting Lola

You can tie up a loose end by taking Cyan back to see Lola. Speak with her, and then have Cyan inspect the letter on the desk to make his final delivery.

THE VELDT

Checklist

- ☐ Fly to the Veldt and search for Gau
- ☐ Head southwest to the Cave in the Veldt

Finding Gau

Gau has returned to his original lifestyle of running with the creatures on the Veldt. To get him to rejoin your party, simply search the Veldt as you normally would when Gau uses his Leap ability. Also, make sure you only have three people in your party or Gau won't show up. He needs to be able to join your party after a battle.

- ☐ Follow Interceptor's path

The Thieves

If Gau is already in your party, the Thieves won't have much new information for you. There is one thief who mentions a dragon in a forest to the north. Although this isn't one of the eight dragons you've been hearing about, it's worth knowing. Its name is Bracheosaur, and it lives in a forest shaped like a dinosaur head. It isn't easy to defeat, but if you do, you receive 10 Magic Points and lots of experience. The Bracheosaur will also randomly leave behind the Economizer Relic. This valuable relic will let a party member cast any spell at a cost of only one MP.

Shadow or Relm

Your earlier actions on the Floating Continent have a big effect on this part of the game. If you waited for Shadow and he made it off of the Floating Continent with you, then you'll find him collapsed inside the cave.

However, if Shadow didn't make it, he's gone for good. In this scenario, you'll find Relm inside the cave. If you don't find Relm here, you'll still eventually find her.

Sr. Behemoth

Although the Sr. Behemoth is tough, it's nothing compared to some of the enemies you've already fought. Use two healers to keep the party healthy, and attack with your most powerful skills. Celes can use the Runic ability to stop the Boss' powerful magic, but this won't cripple the Boss. It still has powerful physical attacks. Avoid using Ice magic; the Sr. Behemoth absorbs it, so you'll only end up healing it.

After defeating the Sr. Behemoth, the ghost of the Sr. Behemoth immediately attacks from behind the party. You can finish this battle quickly by using a Revivify on the dead spirit.

Dream World

Upon first entering the dream world, one of your characters will be alone. However, off to the side you'll see one of your other characters on the ground. Your goal is to reunite three of your characters, and then search for Cyan.

Take the left door to find your first party member. Exit that area, then take the high door, and then the right door to find the next party member. Finally, exit that area and take the door to the left to find the Dream Stooges.

Dream Stooges

After reuniting three of your party members, you'll fight the Dream Stooges. These creatures support each other during battle, and have a powerful attack that can petrify a member of your party. If this occurs, quickly cast Remedy on the petrified party member.

Begin the battle by attacking Curly (the one at the top) with Ice magic. You should hit it first, because it has the ability to revive its partners. With Curly out of the way, none of the Dream Stooges can be revived once eliminated.

Then focus your attacks on either Larry or Moe. Fire works well against Larry, but avoid Ice and Wind attacks. Moe absorbs Bolt spells, and doesn't have a weakness to any element. However, you can cast Berserk to put an end to its magic. Without its Bolt spells, it's easy to defeat.

Chest Puzzle 1

The first puzzle is easy. Flip the wall switch twice to move the second box next to the chest.

Chest Puzzle 2

To stop the moving chest, go to the end of the car and get the "Lump of Metal." Now put the "Lump of Metal" in the moving chest, which weighs it down so that it can't block your path.

Chest Puzzle 3

Flip the wall switch above the six chests. Memorize which chests close, and then go to the next car. When you reach the end, close the three chests that were closed by the switch on the other set of chests, and then throw the wall switch.

Couch Puzzle

Stop the Engine

Use the right switch, and then exit the engine. This takes you to the Narshe mines.

MagiTek Puzzle

OK, so you're suited in MagiTek Armor and stuck in what looks like the Narshe Mines. Where do you go? If you continue forward, you'll get stuck in a loop. Backtrack a bit to find Cyan crossing a bridge. The bridge collapses under the weight of the MagiTek Armor, which drops you into Doma Castle.

Doma Castle

In the throne room, you'll encounter Wrexssoul, who has a hold on Cyan. At the start of the fight, Wrexssoul will possess one of your characters, leaving its cronies behind to attack the party. Ignore them. If you destroy either of the Soul Savers, they'll just regenerate.

To make Wrexssoul reappear, you must KO the possessed character. The bad thing is, there's no indication as to which party member is possessed. So, one by one, you must KO your own characters and revive them until Wrexssoul is once again visible. After doing so, throw your most powerful Ice magic and any other strong attacks. You don't have long to attack, because Wrexssoul will soon possess another character.

There is a simpler way to win. After Wrexssoul has possessed a character, cast the X-Zone spell. This may not work at first, but if both Soul Savers are caught by X-Zone, you'll win the battle.

Great Rewards

For completing the Doma Castle event, you receive two rewards. First, Cyan becomes a true master of the sword and can now use all eight of his SwordTech skills. Second, you can pick up the Alexander Esper in the Doma Castle throne room.

Don't Forget the Auction

If you didn't get the two Espers from the Auction House earlier, do so now. You're looking for Golem and Zone Seek. There are a lot of other items for auction; some you can buy, but others you can't.

Owzer's House

Something has taken control of Owzer's art gallery. When you enter the house, walk up the stairs. You'll get stopped, but a diary will appear. After reading through it, you'll learn about the situation. To get into the art gallery, turn on the lights at the bottom of the stairs.

There's a picture of a woman at the back of the gallery. Inspect the painting, and you'll enter combat against two Dahlings. After defeating them, you'll discover a passage into Owzer's basement.

Ghestal's Painting

Search the painting of Gestahl twice to find a letter that hints at a hidden cave—the Phoenix Cave. Keep this in mind for later.

The Basement

Most of the paintings in this area are possessed. You must inspect some of them to fight, but others will attack you automatically. This area loops a bit, but overall you don't have many options. Follow the maps to find Owzer.

The Floating Chests

In one room, there are several chests floating in the air. When you step under them, they'll drop. You must fight enemies, but there's an item to win. When you're done collecting, inspect the painting on the middle of the back wall. Defeat the Still Life to open a door leading to Owzer.

Chadarnook

This Boss has two forms: the demon and the goddess. Your attacks should focus more on the demon than on the goddess, because its HP is lower and it doesn't counterattack with quite as much force.

When the goddess is present, she'll attack with different abnormal status effects. If a party member is under the goddess' control, attack the affected character. When you attack the goddess, there's a good chance that she'll counterattack with an attack that acts like poison. Each time she counterattacks, the effect is added to any previous effects, so a character may lose hundreds of HP each turn.

When the demon appears, attack it full force with Fire magic or strong attacks. Wait to heal your party until the goddess reappears.

Starlet Esper

After the battle with Chadarnook, Owzer mentions that there's an Esper in his bookcase. Search the bookcase to the right to find Starlet.

Terra joins the battle in Esper form, prepared to eliminate Phunbaba for good. Have her attack with Bio or Poison magic. In Esper form, she can cause about 5000 points of damage with each Bio attack. After the battle, Terra will join you.

PHOENIX CAVE

Checklist

- ☐ Find the "Mountains that form a star" near Tzen
- ☐ Land the Airship in the center of the star
- ☐ Break your party into two teams
- ☐ Use teamwork to get the teams through the cave
- ☐ Find Locke and return to Kohlingen (Optional)
- ☐ Battle the Red Dragon

Getting Inside

You'll get a quick lesson in teamwork right at the start of this area. Have one party stand on the switch inside the door, while the other party goes through the opened door. Have the second party perform a hard right, and step on the switch above the first party. This opens the second door, letting them go inside.

Getting around the rest of the area is basically a matter of taking turns. One team flips a switch, which enables the other party to move forward.

Red Dragon

Just before this area ends, there's a side path leading to a dragon protecting ■ chest. This is one of the eight dragons of legend. You don't have to fight it at this time, however, this is one of the easier ones.

During battle, have the entire party cast Ice 2 or Ice 3 on the dragon, which will quickly deplete its energy. If Strago is in your party, use his Aqua Rake Lore to cause some heavy damage. Also, Terra should undergo her transformation if she's with you. In Esper form, she can cause around 6000 points of damage with a simple Ice 2 spell. Resist using Celes' Runic skill. This consumes too much magic, and she'll just end up absorbing your spells.

Locke's Treasure

After finding Locke, you'll immediately get rushed back to Kohlingen, where Locke's lost love rests. After ■ short event, you'll receive the Phoenix Esper and several items that Locke found in the Phoenix Cave. Remember all of those empty chests? Locke is ■ true treasure hunter.

THE COLOSSEUM

One Man's Dream Fulfilled

Remember the man you met earlier who mentioned one day owning a grand colosseum where legendary battles would take place? Well, his dream comes true in the World of Ruin. You'll find this testament to war in the northwest corner of the world, just north of Kohlingen.

Search for Shadow

If you talk to the men in the Inn, you'll discover that ■ ninja has been hanging around looking for an item named Striker. This is a weapon you should have picked up while in the Cave in the Veldt. If you don't have it, go get it. If you sold it, well, there's only one in the world, so you're in deep trouble.

What're you doing here?
I'm looking for a guy who's been hanging around the Inn.

If you have the Striker, talk to the man standing in the middle of the lobby. Agree to do battle and bet the Striker. You'll soon see that Shadow will be your adversary. Choose ■ strong character, and you shouldn't have any trouble defeating him. Shadow then joins your party when you win.

NOTE

Shadow will only join your party if you saved him on the Floating Continent and you've already found him in the Cave in the Veldt.

Fighting at the Colosseum

The Colosseum offers a great opportunity to win rare items through one-on-one combat. Don't get too excited, though, because it's not as easy as it sounds.

By betting an item, you have a chance to win an even better item. This isn't always the case, but most of the time it is. (You'll find ■ list of the items you can bet, who you'll fight, and what you can win on page 277 of this book.)

Battles in the arena are somewhat tricky. No matter how buff your character may be and despite lots of powerful spells, there's no such thing as a sure win. For this reason, it's important to save before entering the arena. You're betting some very rare items, so second chances are sometimes hard to come by.

To make battles easier, analyze your enemy and prepare for battle. For example, betting an Elixir earns you a battle against a Cactrot. Under normal circumstances, this is a tough battle. Cactrots have ■ high evade ability, plus they're immune to most magic. However, if you equip a character with a Genji Glove and the Sniper Sight Relic, you won't have any problems. The Sniper Sight ensures that you'll hit the enemy each time, even with its high evade ability. It also causes two points of damage each turn; that may not sound like much, but the Cactrot only has three HP!

If you win, you'll be rewarded with an even better item. That's all there is to it.

NARSHE

Checklist

- ☐ Check the door to the Weapon Shop with Locke in your party
- ☐ Talk to the Weapon Shop owner
- ☐ Choose to get either the Ragnarok Esper or Ragnarok Sword
- ☐ Go to the Moogle cave and talk to Mog
- ☐ Put Mog into your party
- ☐ Head for the cliff where Tritoch is located
- ☐ Battle Tritoch to get the Tritoch Esper
- ☐ Jump into the pit left behind after the battle
- ☐ Find Umario's lair and inspect the bone statue
- ☐ Take the Terrato Esper
- ☐ Battle Umario
- ☐ Talk to Umario and get him to join your party

Locke's Delight

The town of Narshe is locked up tight, and hardly anyone is around. Locke is the only one in your party with the ability to unlock all of the locked doors. There's an empty house behind most of them, but the Weapon Shop is a bit different.

Speak with the Weapon Shop owner in his bedroom. He'll offer to either give you the Ragnarok Esper or transform the Esper into a powerful sword. The choice is yours, but remember that there are plenty of powerful weapons available and only one Ragnarok Esper!

Also, there's a house on the north side of town where you'll find a man in his bed. Speak with him and he'll give you the Cursed Shield. When it's worn, this shield casts several negative effects on its wearer and offers no additional defense. However, if one of your characters wears it in 250 battles, the curse will be broken and the Cursed Shield will become the Paladin Shield. You can counter most of the Cursed Shield's negative effects by equipping the character with a Ribbon.

Missing Mog

Remember where the Moogles' lair is? Head into the Narshe mines to find Mog in the Moogles' Lair. To have him join your party, simply talk to him. With Mog in your party, search where he was standing to find a rare relic, the Moogles Charm. This relic enables you to wander areas without randomly encountering monsters.

Mog will also mention that there's a Yeti in Narshe who would be a great asset to your party. Return to the airship and place Mog in your party. Then head for the area where you last saw the Tritoch Esper, the same area where Terra freaked out.

Ice Dragon

On the way to the Tritoch Esper, you'll find a dragon roaming the area where you earlier faced Kefka's army. This is yet another of the fabled dragons.

Equip your party with items like the Ice Shield, which protects against Ice magic, and you'll be nearly invulnerable. Fire weapons also work well. It also helps if Terra is in your party, and she knows the Phoenix's Fire 3 spell.

Attack the Ice Dragon with constant Fire magic or weapons. If Terra morphs into her Esper and uses Fire 3, she can nearly wipe out the Ice Dragon in a single turn. Otherwise, just chip away at the dragon's health with Fire magic and it will fall in no time.

Tritoch

At the cliff, the Tritoch Esper will attack the party. This battle is similar to the one with the Ice Dragon. Just pummel the Esper with Fire magic, and the fight will quickly end. When the battle is won, the Tritoch Esper will join you and a new passage will be opened.

Umaro's Cave

After defeating the Tritoch Esper, a hole will open in the cliff, providing access to Umaro's cave. The cave is fairly small, and not too difficult to navigate. Just watch for the random holes in the floor. You must fall through some of the holes, but you must dodge others.

At the back of the cave, there's a patch of hay and a bone statue. Inspect the bone statue, and you'll discover the Terrato Esper. Upon taking the Esper, Umaro will appear and attack the party.

You will also encounter Pugs in this area. If they are too difficult to defeat, try the "Vanish/X-Zone" trick. This will make fighting them really easy.

Umaro

This fight is dependent upon Fire magic. Just immediately hit this Boss with Fire magic (especially Fire 3) and Umaro will soon give up. When this Boss eats a Green Cherry, it boosts Umaro's abilities to insane proportions.

Supper for a Zone Eater

This may sound crazy, but your goal here is get everyone eaten. Zone Eaters will eat your party one by one. If you destroy the Zone Eater, the eaten party members are safely returned. However, if you allow a Zone Eater to munch on your entire party, they'll end up in the Zone Eater's belly. As nasty as that might sound, these creatures eat a lot and there's plenty to do in one's belly.

Crossing the Bridge

Some invincible people guard the bridge through Zone Eater's belly. If they touch your party, they'll knock them down to the room below. You'll want to do this once to get the items in the room below, but only once. Time your way across the bridge, and jump between the paths to avoid getting touched. Make sure you run or sprint.

Collapsing Ceiling

The room with the collapsing ceiling is very dangerous, so make sure you save before you enter. The ceiling constantly moves up and down, crushing anything that gets in its way. You must run across and make sure you stand in the few safe spots that exist. Take a peek at an area before you charge ahead to have better luck.

To get the final chest, you must pass it by and then wait until the ceiling goes up again to rush in, grab the treasure, and get out.

Chest Hopping

This puzzle is much easier than it looks. You can hop onto the open chests, causing them to launch you to the next platform. To get the treasure, you must flip the floor switch. After jumping onto the floor switch's island from the top, getting around should be a breeze.

Get Gogo

At the end of the area, you'll find Gogo. It has the ability to mimic the attacks of other characters during battle. When you select the Mimic ability in battle, Gogo will perform the same action as the last person who attacked. For example, if Sabin uses his Fire Dance Blitz just before Gogo uses the Mimic skill, Gogo will also use the Fire Dance Blitz. This is great because miming an action doesn't cost Gogo MP, and Gogo doesn't have to charge SwordTechs.

Gogo has a hidden ability to equip any type of battle commands. Go into Gogo's status screen, and select a blank space in its battle command list. A menu will appear with every command that you currently have available. You can then customize Gogo's commands however you wish. So basically Gogo can have Sabin's Blitz skill, Cyan's SwordTech skill, and Gau's Rage skill at the same time, or any other combination you see fit.

THE OPERA HOUSE

Checklist

- ☐ Speak with the Impresario in the balcony
- ☐ Go to the right side of the balcony and into the switch room
- ☐ Use the second switch from the right to reach the stage
- ☐ Battle the Dirt Dragon

Getting On Stage

Talk to the Impresario in the balcony, and you'll learn that you must get to the stage. Now head for the switch room you used on your previous visit. However, instead of throwing the switch on the far right, throw the second one from the right. This drops you onto the stage. You can also throw the remaining two switches, which do funny things.

Dirt Dragon

You've located yet another of the legendary dragons, and this one is tough. Begin the battle by casting Float on your entire party. This will protect them from the various types of earth magic that the dragon uses. This doesn't make the battle easy, but it does make it manageable.

Keep everyone's HP up, because the Dirt Dragon can usually KO a character with a single hit of its powerful claws. You may want to cast Haste on your party to keep things moving. This dragon is extremely fast and may be too quick without the Haste effect.

SOLITARY ISLAND

Checklist

- ☐ Return to Cid's hut on Solitary Island
- ☐ Go to the beach and get the Palidor Esper

Checking in on Cid

Whether or not you saved Cid's life, it's time to return and check on the island. When you get to the house, head for the beach. Along the water's edge, you'll discover the Palidor Esper.

DUNCAN'S HOUSE

Checklist

- ☐ Put Sabin in your party
- ☐ Locate Duncan's hideaway
- ☐ Talk to Duncan

Duncan's Wife

Remember talking to Duncan's Wife back in South Figaro? She mentioned that Duncan was alive and well, training in a secret location north of Narshe. Well, she was almost right. The location is actually more to the northeast. Look for a cross that's made of five trees below a mountain range. When you see it, you'll know you're in the right spot.

Sabin's Training

Duncan is ready to complete Sabin's training. Just for bringing Sabin here, you'll learn Sabin's ultimate Blitz technique, the Bum Rush.

TOWER OF FANATICS

Checklist

- ☐ Climb the tower
- ☐ Get the Gem Box Relic from the top floor
- ☐ Exit the top room and confront Kefka's followers
- ☐ Battle the Mage Master
- (Optional)
- ☐ Fight the White Dragon

Magic Mayhem

For whatever reason, anyone inside the Tower of Fanatics is restricted to using magic. That means no physical attacks, no special skills, and no items.

It helps to equip characters with Relics like the Gold Hairpin or Economizer because they reduce the cost of casting spells. Wall Rings also work well, because they reflect most of the magic used by the enemies in the tower. The down side is that you'll have trouble healing your characters. If nothing else, make sure each character can use the Osmose ability to draw MP from enemies.

Secret Room

There's a hidden switch on the wall to the right of the treasure chest in the first treasure room. Go back outside and you'll find a new door on the floor below. Inside you'll find an Air Anchor, which is a new tool for Edgar.

Fighting L.20 Magic and L.90 Magic

These two enemies are protected by Reflect magic. To attack them, you can cast Reflect on your own party and bounce spells off your characters, or you can use magic like Ultima, which can't be reflected.

White Dragon

On the third floor, you'll encounter another one of the eight legendary dragons. You can easily win this fight by casting Reflect on your party. You can then pound the White Dragon into submission with the spells of your choice. Just avoid using Pearl, because it heals the White Dragon.

Mage Master

As you attempt to leave the top floor of the tower after getting the Gem Box Relic, the Mage Master will attack. Each time you hit the Mage Master with a spell, it changes its magical strengths and weaknesses. This makes it very difficult to cause damage to the Boss.

You can counter this by using spells like Ultima and Meteor, which can't be blocked by Mage Master's magical defenses. Or, you can cast Berserk on the Boss so that it can't change its defenses or use magic. Just make absolutely sure you cast Berserk immediately, or the Mage Master may change its defense in a way that leaves your characters powerless. If this occurs, you can always cast Dispel on the Boss to remove the Berserk effect. When the Mage Master changes defenses again, hit it with Berserk again. You can use Scan to check what the Mage Master's weakness is at any time.

You MUST first cast a Life 3 spell on at least one of your party members (contained in the Phoenix Esper). If you don't have Life 3, you can't defeat the Mage Master. After weakening the Mage Master enough, he'll cast one final spell: Ultima. The Ultima spell will destroy not only the Mage Master, but your entire party as well. However, if you cast Life 3 on one or more party members, they will come back to life after the battle, enabling the player to win this battle.

ANCIENT CASTLE

Checklist

- ☐ Have Figaro Castle move underground
- ☐ When the castle stops, tell the engineer to remain stopped
- ☐ Go to the prison and exit through the hole in the wall
- ☐ Find your way through the cave to the Ancient Castle
- ☐ Enter the castle's main gate and find Odin
- ☐ Inspect Odin to get the Odin Esper
- ☐ Search the stairs in front of the thrones to find a hidden switch
- ☐ Go to the library east of the throne room
- ☐ Inspect the shining object in the bookcase
- ☐ Go into the hidden basement
- ☐ Battle the Blue Dragon
- ☐ Inspect the Queen's statue to transform Odin
- ☐ Return to the castle's engine room and have the castle continue its journey

Finding a Lost Castle

The Ancient Castle is buried deep under the ocean. The only thing that can reach it is Figaro Castle, so go there and have the engineer move the castle. About half way to its destination, the castle will stop. You will then have the option to continue or check out the area. Have the castle stay put and go to the prison. You can use the entrance you used to save Figaro Castle earlier to exit into a cave that leads to the Ancient Castle.

Reflections

Most of the enemies in this area are protected by Reflect. Therefore, don't use spells that can be reflected against them unless you bounce them off of one of your own party members protected by Reflect.

Getting Odin

The Odin Esper is easy to acquire. Simply go into the Ancient Castle's main entrance, and head straight to the throne room. Inspect the petrified Odin to receive the Odin Esper.

Transforming Odin

The Queen of the castle can transform Odin into a more powerful Esper. Search 5 paces in front of the right-hand throne to find and trigger a hidden switch. Throwing the switch causes a hidden staircase to appear in the room to the east of the throne room. Climb down the new staircase to find a hidden room containing both the Blue Dragon and the petrified Queen.

You may have to battle the Blue Dragon before you can reach the Queen. The hall is narrow and the Blue Dragon's flight path is erratic, but you can avoid the battle if you don't feel you're ready for it.

When you have Odin, inspect the Queen's Statue once and her tears will transform Odin into Raiden. Raiden is a more powerful Esper than Odin. Just keep in mind that you may want to take the time to teach a character the Meteor spell that Odin has now, because Raiden has a different spell to teach. After trading the Odin Esper for the Raiden Esper, the Odin Esper is gone for good.

Blue Dragon

There's another legendary dragon in the hidden basement. The Blue Dragon is weak to Lightning, so have your party use Bolt 3 against the beast. If Terra is in your party, give the Gem Box and Economizer Relics to her if you have them. Then have her Morph and cast two Bolt 3 spells each turn. The rest of the party can then focus on healing. Fighting in this fashion will make this a quick battle.

Return to Thamasa

To start this quest, revisit Thamasa with Strago and Relm in your party. They discover that Strago's friend and rival Gungho has been injured by Hidon, a creature that Strago has been chasing his entire life. Once Strago sets out to defeat Hidon, fly to the island north of Thamasa to find Hidon's lair.

The Hungry Chest

There's a chest blocking your way to Hidon, and it's hungry for Coral. Fortunately, there's lots of Coral in this cave, but getting it won't be easy.

To find Coral, step on the teleporter to get thrown into a random area. Any chests you find will contain Coral of different amounts. After collecting about 50 pieces, take them to the Hungry Chest and feed them to it. This will satisfy the chest, causing it to move.

Hidon & the Hidonites

Begin the battle by casting Float on your entire party. This will put them out of harm's reach from your follow-up spell. Cast Quake as often as possible against Hidon and its Hidonites. This spell will eliminate all of the Hidonites, and should cause a lot of damage to Hidon.

However, don't destroy Hidon too quickly. It can teach Strago the Grand Train Lore, so give it a chance to use the spell. If you don't have the Quake spell, Fire and Pearl magic also work well.

DOOM GAZE

Finding Doom Gaze

Doom Gaze is a demon that will sometimes attack the Airship as you travel from point to point. Its appearances aren't very common, so you may have to fly for several minutes before running into it.

Doom Gaze

At the start of every battle, Doom Gaze will use the Level 5 Doom spell. Therefore, it's important that not all of your characters are at a level divisible of five. If they are, they're dead. You'll need at least one survivor to revive anyone who may have succumbed to the spell.

After Doom Gaze's opening attack, have one or two characters attack Doom Gaze with Fire 3 and Pearl magic. The others should focus on healing. Again, it's good to have Terra in your party for these battles, because she can cause double damage with Fire 3 and Pearl while in Esper form.

After causing enough damage, Doom Gaze will escape from battle. You will have to find and fight Doom Gaze several times before you can finally defeat it. You may remember that someone once told the party that Doom Gaze can't heal itself between battles, so any damage you did in this battle will carry over to the next one.

When you finally defeat Doom Gaze, you receive a powerful Esper, Bahamut. That should make all of the extra flying time well worth the trouble.

KEFKA'S TOWER

Checklist

- ☐ Split the party into three groups
- ☐ Take control of the second group
- ☐ Battle Atma
- ☐ Have the second group find a switch to assist the first group
- ☐ Fight the Gold Dragon
- ☐ Continue to the room with three switches and change to the third party
- ☐ Challenge Inferno
- ☐ Inspect the glowing chest to open a path for the first party
- ☐ Defeat the Skull Dragon
- ☐ Continue to the room with the three switches and change to the first party
- ☐ Fight your way to the room where the other two groups are waiting
- ☐ Have the first party push the weights down off the ledges above the second and third parties
- ☐ Continue on with each group and defeat Guardian, Poltergeist, Goddess, and Doom
- ☐ Put all three parties on a switch
- ☐ Challenge Kefka

Exploring Kefka's Tower

At the start, you'll split into three groups. It's important that you have a fair balance between all three. Don't put your best warriors into one group, or you'll have a tough time getting past some of the Bosses in this area.

Also, you should remove Espers from inactive groups so that the active group can have the freedom to learn whatever spells they need. Make sure you move them around every time you switch unless you're only switching for a minor adjustment.

Start with either the second or third group. Both of these groups must find switches that open up the path for the first group. These two groups also have the dubious honor of fighting two Bosses each, so they'll need a bit more strength at first than the first group.

The path through this area isn't nearly as complex as it looks. There are a few loops, but it's fairly straightforward. Use the maps to help guide you through.

Divide into 3 groups.
Use the  button to switch between them.

Atma

The second party will fight Atma, who's held up in Kefka's old cell. Because Atma doesn't have any weaknesses, you must rely on strong attacks and support magic. It helps to cast Haste 2 and Life 3 on your party. Use everyone's strongest skills, like Sabin's Bum Rush Blitz, and keep everyone healthy.

Gold Dragon

If you've followed along since the beginning of the guide, this should be the seventh of the legendary dragons. Prepare your second party for the battle by equipping anything that protects against Lightning Magic. This should help neutralize the Gold Dragon's attacks.

Attack the Gold Dragon with Water magic if you have any (like Strago's Aqua Rake Lore spell). If not, just use strong physical attacks or spells like Ultima and Meteor.

Inferno (Striker & Rough)

This creature attacks the third party as they walk through Kefka's Tower. Inferno has three body parts. You can destroy its arms, but they regenerate after a few turns. However, if you have powerful magic like Ultima or Meteor, you can attack all three parts simultaneously. Otherwise, ignore the arms and attack the torso.

Inferno's body is weak against Lightning magic, so Bolt spells are very effective. The other body parts are weak to other types of magic, so there's no need to spread out the Bolt spells. Just focus on the torso, and the arms will get destroyed along with it.

Skull Dragon

This is the last of the eight legendary dragons, and your third party gets the honor of finishing this quest. The Skull Dragon uses a lot of negative status effects, so Ribbons are a must. If not on every character, then at least on two of them. The Skull Dragon also likes to cast Doom on your party, so use Life 2 for quick recovery.

Start the battle by casting Haste 2 on the entire party. Then bombard the Skull Dragon with Fire and Pearl magic, because it is weak against both. If multiple characters have Fire 3 spells, you can end this battle quickly. Make sure you keep everyone's HP high, because you may get hit with an abnormal status effect.

Guardian

Apparently the Guardian is no longer invincible, which is good news. Use lots of Lightning and Water magic. Aqua Rake and Bolt 3 work wonders. Even some physical attacks, like Sabin's Burn Rush or X-Fight, work really well. If you can, summon Ramuh to unleash some extra damage.

Poltergeist

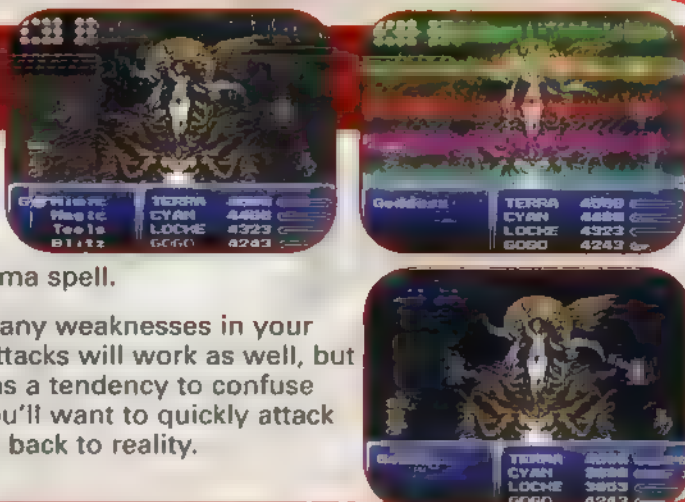

Poltergeist is only weak to Poison magic, so Poison and Bio work best. This won't poison the Boss, however, it will cause a lot of damage. This Boss packs quite a punch, so keep everyone's HP high. Also, make sure you use support magic like Haste 2, Safe, and Shell. They'll help a lot if your weaker characters are in this party.

Goddess

The Goddess doesn't have a weakness. She is protected from Lightning magic, but other strong spells like Ultima and Meteor work well. In fact, you can usually defeat her with just a few casts of the Ultima spell.

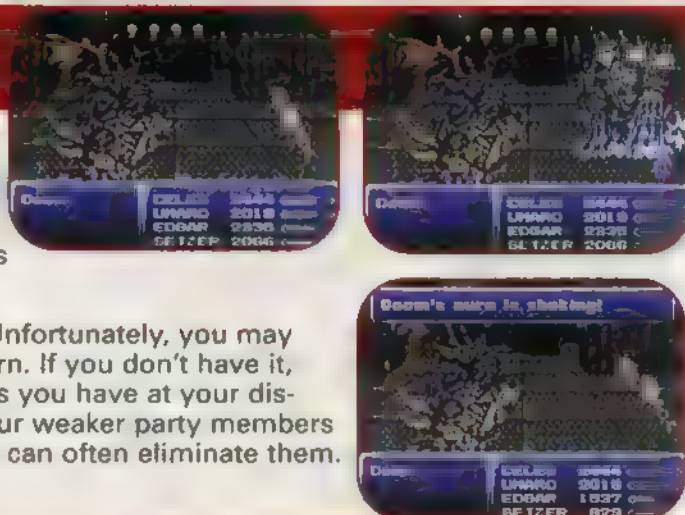

Use support magic again to make up for any weaknesses in your party. If you lack strong magic, physical attacks will work as well, but the battle will last longer. The Goddess has a tendency to confuse party members into doing her bidding. You'll want to quickly attack anyone under her control to snap him/her back to reality.

Doom

Doom is very fast and powerful. Start the battle by setting up a good defense with Safe and Shell. You may also want to summon Golem for added protection. Then use Haste 2 to increase your party's speed.

Doom's only weakness is Pearl magic. Unfortunately, you may not have this, because it isn't easy to learn. If you don't have it, use whatever powerful magic and attacks you have at your disposal. You may want to cast Life 3 on your weaker party members early in the fight, because a single attack can often eliminate them.

On to Kefka

Move all three parties onto the switches ahead, and then save your game. You'll soon battle Kefka, who's a lot tougher than you may remember.

In preparation, equip your four best characters with any items that block magic and your best relics. You'll want everyone to know Cure 3, Life 2, Life 3, Haste 2, and Ultima or Meteor. Also, make sure everyone is rested and you save your game.

Climbing the Tower

As the battle begins, you're asked to place your characters in the order in which you want them to fight. What you're doing is planning your battle strategy. The tower you're about to face is comprised of three powerful Bosses. At the first Boss, you're first four characters from your list will enter the battle. After destroying the first Boss, you'll progress up the tower to the second Boss and any character(s) that is knocked out during the first Boss fight will be replaced with the next character(s) from your list in the order that you selected them.

So when setting the list, place your four best characters at the top. Then continue to fill the list going in order from your strongest to your weakest characters.

Fighting the Bosses

Although each of the Bosses on the tower are very different, you'll want to use one simple strategy over and over. Begin each battle by casting Haste 2 and Life 3 on everyone in your party. Haste 2 will enable your characters to attack quickly, while Life 3 will automatically revive them if they're K.O.ed at any point in the battle. This will also keep them from being replaced in the next battle if they're taken down by a Boss' final attack. You will have to recast Life 3 several times if your character gets repeatedly knocked out.

Attack the Bosses by using either Ultima or Meteor spells. It helps a great deal to have your most powerful spellcaster (usually Terra) equipped with the Gem Box Relic, so he/she can use the X-Magic ability that enables the character to cast two spells each turn. Also, you may want to equip a strong fighter like Cyan or Sabin with a Genji Glove and the Offering Relics, so you'll have someone who can attack eight times each turn. Sabin's Burn Rush Blitz skill also works extremely well.

Make sure you have a character who always serves as a healer. That person should cast Cure 3 each turn and be prepared to use Life 2 if the situation arises. You'll also want to have another character ready to help out with healing if a particular spell lowers everyone's HP. If any of your spell casters starts to run low on MP, make sure you take a turn to draw MP from a Boss using the Osmose spell. This way, there's never a need to use Ether during these battles.

Kefka: The Final Boss

After facing the statues, you will then face the final Boss, Kefka. You can use similar strategies for defeating Kefka as you did for the statues.

ESPERS

In the early stages of the game only two of your characters, Terra and Celes, can use magic. It isn't until later in the game, when you begin to collect Magicite crystals, that the other characters will be able to cast spells:

Magicite is what remains of an Esper when its life has ended. You can equip these crystals one at a time on a character. When equipped, the character will slowly learn spells that the Esper was once able to cast. The character can also summon the Magicite's Esper once during a battle.

There are many different Espers to collect. You'll find a complete list of these Espers and their powers on the following pages.

Equipping an Esper

After collecting an Esper, you can equip it on a character. To do so, go to the Main Menu and select the Skills option. Select the character you want to equip, and then choose the Esper option. You'll then see a complete list of all of the Espers you've collected up to that point.

Espers in white are unequipped, while Espers in gray are currently equipped on a character. You can see which character has a particular Esper equipped by selecting it.

You can only equip one Esper on a character at a time. After the character has learned all it can from the Esper, you can then remove the equipped Esper and select another.

Learning from Espers

When you equip an Esper, you'll see a complete list of the spells the Esper can teach a character, the Learning Rate for each spell, and a percentage that indicates how far (or close) your character is to learning a particular spell.

After most battles, your characters will earn Magic Points if a character is currently learning a spell from an Esper. The amount earned varies from one to 10 Magic Points. These points are given to all of your active characters and applied toward every spell the characters are currently learning.

The Learning Rate next to a spell acts as a multiplier. The amount of Magic Points earned is multiplied by the Learning Rate and added to the percentage learned. For example, say your character is learning Cure 3 and the Learning Rate is x2. After a battle, the character earns five Magic Points. Those five points are multiplied by two, so the character's percentage learned is 10 percent. (5 Magic Points x 2 = 10%)

You can learn many spells from several different Espers. The Learning Rate will be different with each Esper, so you should always look for the quickest way to learn the spell. So, if you're trying to teach a character Cure, it's better to have Starlet, which has a x25 Learning Rate for Cure than Shiva, whose learning rate is only x3 for Cure. Always keep this in mind so that you avoid wasting valuable Magic Points.

Summoning an Esper

Each character can summon the Esper they have equipped once during a battle. To do so, select the Magic command and go to the top of the screen and press up. Select the Espers' attack, and it will perform the attack the next time the character acts. Esper attacks consume a lot of MP, so be careful when using them.

Level Bonuses

Most Espers have a Level Bonus, which is given to a character if it is equipped with the Esper when the character goes up a level. For example, let's say Locke has a Stamina of 30 and he's equipped with Golem when he goes up a level. Because Golem has a Level Bonus of Stamina +2, Locke's Stamina would increase to 32.

You can maximize the benefits of such Level Bonuses by paying close attention to your character's experience points. Just before your character goes up a level, equip an Esper with the Level Bonus you desire. Then, once the character goes up a level, go back to the Esper that the character was learning from. This takes a lot of work on your part, but it can be well worth the effort.

FINAL FANTASY® VI Secrets

The following pages contain many secrets from FINAL FANTASY VI. Many can be considered spoilers, so you shouldn't dive into this section right away. This is best viewed once you've already played through the game. Those of you who can't wait will have to pay the price of knowing a bit more than you probably should.

Bonus Menus

Anytime you complete FINAL FANTASY VI, be sure to wait through the credits and you'll get ■ special surprise. The game will create a "System File" on your memory card that will allow you to see all of the features in the Bonus Menu. You can then access the Bonus Menu when you first load the game. The new menus allow you to watch the game's cinemas, peek at the bestiary, look at production art, and much more. You'll need one empty block on your Memory Card for the System File.

The Legendary Vanish/X-Zone Trick

Spells like Doom and X-Zone don't seem to be very valuable since they usually fail to do what they're supposed to do. If you combine these spells with the Vanish spell, however, they almost always work. In battle, cast Vanish on your enemy. This makes the enemy invisible and protects it from physical attacks but makes it vulnerable to nearly any type of magic. Follow up with either Doom or X-Zone, and you're almost guaranteed they'll work. This trick works on just about every enemy, including Bosses! You can also use the Vanish trick to make it easier to transform enemies into items when using the Ragnarok Esper in battle.

Curing the Cursed Shield

In Narshe, during the World of Ruin, you'll find a man hiding in his house who'll give your party a Cursed Shield. You must have Locke in your party in order to unlock the door to his house. Anyone who wears the shield will suffer from several abnormal statuses in battle, and the shield fails to provide any additional protection. Why would anyone equip such a thing?

If you're willing to equip the Cursed Shield for 255 battles, the curse will be broken. Once the curse is gone, the Cursed Shield becomes the Paladin Shield, which is arguably the best shield in the game.

Should you choose to take on this challenge, be sure to equip the character that'll be using the shield with a Ribbon, which will counter most of the abnormal status effects. Then you'll want to go somewhere like Solitary Island and fight a bunch of easy battles to help you quickly reach the necessary 255.

FINAL FANTASY VI Limit Breaks?

Believe it or not, even FINAL FANTASY VI has Limit Breaks. When a character's HP is extremely low, there's a chance that a character can perform an unusually powerful attack in place of its normal fight command. Such occurrences are rare, but you should see it happen at least once during your adventure.

Time Extension

Sometimes, in battle, an enemy will curse your characters. Should this happen, a timer will appear over the cursed character's head. If it reaches zero, the character is petrified. Should time be running short on a character's life, you can always give it a small boost.

Quickly select each of your characters' attacks, but have the last character open the Magic menu and wait. As long as the menu is open, the timer won't move. But your characters that have already selected an attack will still be able to act. This may not be useful all of the time, but it can help if you've almost got the battle won.

Relic Ring

This is an item that may seem a bit useless to you. If a character has this item equipped, you can actually use a Doom spell as a healing spell. Cast Doom on the character with the Relic Ring, and suddenly you'll understand just what a great thing the Relic Ring can be.

Powerful Relic Combinations

Try these Relic combinations. Equipping the Genji Glove and the Offering on a character allows the character to attack a total of eight times each turn. The Offering also works well with Locke's Thief Glove, allowing him to attack and steal four times.

Give a powerful spell caster like Terra the Gem Box Relic and an Economizer Relic. Now the equipped character can cast two spells each turn for one MP each. If your character has learned the Quick spell, it can cast Ultima and then Quick to get two more turns immediately. So, you can cast Ultima four more times for only six MP.

Counter Cold

There are many enemies in the game that use a freezing attack to paralyze your characters. As long as one character isn't frozen, you can counter this by casting a weak fire spell on the party. You can also counter other abnormal statuses by attacking your own characters. Hitting a sleeping character with a physical attack wakes them. Doing the same with a confused character snaps them out of the daze. Casting Imp on a character that's been turned into an Imp changes the character back to normal.

Life is Death

Undead creatures can be killed instantly by using certain healing magic and items. Magic with this effect includes Life and Life 2. Items include Phoenix Down, Revivify, and X-Potions. Keep in mind that things that normally cause death will heal the undead.

Dinosaur Forest

In the World of Ruin, there's a forest north of the Veldt that looks like a dinosaur head. In the forest, you'll encounter tough enemies like the Tyranosaurs and the Brachosaur. Tyranosaurs are hard to beat, but the Brachosaur is the worst. Use the Vanish/X-Zone trick to quickly win these battles. Not only do you get ten Magic Points, but you can also randomly find an Economizer. These rare Relics cut casting costs down to one Magic Point for any spell. You can also steal extra Ribbons from them if you're brave enough to try. Always be sure to save before wandering into the dinosaur forest.

Super Save Points

In any area where you must split your characters into two or more groups, you can perform a useful trick with Save Points. Having a party use a Tent on a Save Point heals that party but not others. If you switch to the other groups, however, they can also use a Tent as long as one of the parties is still standing on a Save Point.

Early Level-Up Trick

In the World of Balance, you can give your characters an early advantage by spending some time on the Lete River. Hop onto the raft outside the Returner's Hideout. At the first Save Point, go into the sub-menu. Go to "Cmd. Set", select "short" and press the  button. You can now place Banon's Health spell in place of the Fight command. This means that he will cast his health spell every turn.

Back on the river, go up the river at the first intersection and then tape down the  button and tape the D-pad in the up position. The raft will then circle the area, and your characters will fight and heal automatically. Leave the game running in this fashion overnight. The next day, you'll find that your character's level has increased significantly.

Hunting for Cactrots

If you really want to gain a lot of Magic Points and GP quickly, you'll want to seek out the elusive Cactrot. It can be found in a desert southwest of Maranda in the World of Ruin. Defeating the Cactrot isn't easy. Its evading skill is unmatched, and most magic isn't effective against it. You can whittle away at its HP by using a character's special skill. Edgar's Drill, Sabin's Pummel Blitz, and Cyan's Dispatch SwordTech all work well. You can also equip a character with the Sniper Sight Relic, which ensures you'll hit the spiny, little beast. For defeating a Cactrot, you're given 10 Magic Points and 10,000 GP.

Shadow's Past

If you want to learn more about the mysterious ninja, Shadow, you must have him in your party when you stay at Inns. Each time you do, there's a fair chance you'll see one of several flashbacks into Shadow's past.
